Attorney General of Alabama Says Enforcement Bureau Has Worked for Defense.

Luverne, Ala., November 29. (AP)—In a vigorous public statement, charging he had been handicapped by lack of cooperation from the state law enforcement bureau and for other reasons, Attorney General Charlie C. McCall tonight announced his withdrawal from prosecution of Crenshaw county flogging cases shortly before a jury acquitted the second of 34 men to be tried.

This letter, he said, was found in the possession of Ira B. Thompson, reported head of the local Klan, to whom it was addressed, and it formed the basis of his action yesterday in issuing subpoenas for both men to appear here and explain its contents.

G. O. P. COMMITTEE TO HEAR COOLIDGE

President May Decide To Clarify Recent Announcement of His Stand on Third Term.

BY ARTHUR SEARS BENNING.
(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Washington, November 29.—Is President Coolidge going to close the door next Monday to his re-nomination under any circumstances?

This is the question that the politicians are asking each other as a result of information emanating from the White House today. The president made it known that he will receive the members of the republican national committee next Monday and will have some remarks to make to them.

The press will not be admitted to the meeting but copies of his statement to the committee will be issued afterward, it was learned.

Important Announcement.

All these circumstances, in the opinion of the republican leaders who are arriving in Washington in daily increasing numbers, point to a pronouncement of major importance by

Double Salary And Life Job For Coolidge

This Is Proposal of Town Committee of Sudbury, Mass.

Sudbury, Mass., November 29. (AP)—Double the salary of President Coolidge and reelect him for life. This is the policy voted by the first republican town committee in Massachusetts to take action on the candidacy of Coolidge in 1928.

Undoubtedly the coolness recently shown at the white house towards those who are agitating for the re-nomination of the president, the republican town committee has voted not only to support Coolidge delegates at the republican national convention next year, but to promote a life presidency for Mr. Coolidge. The vote was 6 to 1.

Irving A. Priest, Boston, banker, who is secretary of the committee, explained the action of the body in this statement:

"We have no apologies to make for our zeal in seeking to perpetuate this Massachusetts man in office. Good and sufficient collateral for the zeal lies in the knowledge that in the flesh of Calvin Coolidge has come to life in the very fact the long treasured, long idealized, mythical, Uncle Sam, thin, sharp featured, grim, deliberate, cool, firm, thrifty, patient, sagacious, tolerant, kind, Christian. It is our fixed purpose to work first and last to consummate this lone instance General Washington, wherein the presidential office has sought the man."

CHAMBER DEFENDS TAX CUT PROGRAM OF $400,000,000

Statement Avoids Making Any Reference to Coolidge, Who Has Attacked Proposal.

Washington, November 29. (AP)—The Chamber of Commerce of the United States struck back tonight at critics of its $400,000,000 tax reduction program.

It avoided, however, any direct reference to President Coolidge, whose displeasure at the organization's efforts to bring about revenue law changes favored by a majority of its membership, was disclosed last week at the white house.

Breaking a silence which officers of the chamber have maintained since the veto of Coolidge became known, Lewis E. Pierson, its president, in a formal statement issued tonight, said:

"When national revenue measures are being considered the Chamber of Commerce of the United States maintains that business organizations afford careful study by competent experts and after full discussion and after widespread referendum vote have not only the right but the responsibility to express their mature judgment on what appears to them to be a safe tax reduction."

"Our government is a representative democracy."

"The Chamber of Commerce of the United States asks both political parties to join in a non-partisan bill for the immediate and adequate reduction of taxes. This will give the country much needed relief from war-time taxes so that industry may be strengthened to meet increasing competition in world markets, to continue employment of wage earners and to enlarge the country's earning and buying power."

"This is the position of American business clearly shown in the over-

ATLANTA BEGAN STATUARY PLANS

Constitution in 1901 Printed First Plea and Editorial for Representation in Capitol.

Dr. Crawford W. Long, who first used ether as an anesthetic in surgery, and Alexander H. Stephens, vice president of the Confederacy, were selected as Georgia's contribution to Statuary hall in the capitol at Washington by a special committee named for this purpose by Governor Allen D. Candler in November, 1901. It was learned at the capitol Tuesday. The preparations under way to send a large delegation from Georgia to Washington to attend the unveiling of the statue of Stephens on December 8 brought out some interesting details of the original work in naming these two distinguished Georgians for this unique honor.

The first suggestion that Georgia be represented in Statuary hall was made August 25, 1901, by Madison Bell, prominent Atlanta lawyer. Mr. Bell made this suggestion in a letter written to The Constitution and published in this newspaper on that date. Mr. Bell at that time had just returned from a trip to Washington and noticed that Georgia was not represented in Statuary hall.

Committees Named.

Governor Candler later adopted the suggestion and appointed the following committee to select two Georgians whose statues should be placed in the hall: Clark Howell, editor of The Constitution, at that time president of the Georgia state senate; Senators Hiram P. Bell and J. T. Allen; Representatives John D. Little, speaker of the house; C. C. Houston, William Hardman, J. B. Park, Jr., and E. B. Greenham and from the state at large the following citizens: Dr. L. G. Hardman, now governor of Georgia; Judge George H. Miller, Spencer D. Atkinson, A. L. Hall, A. L. Miller, Columbus Heard, Madison Bell, R. G. Mitchell and Fleming G. du Bignon. Mr. Heard was named as chairman of

SCHOOL CONTRACT SIGNED BY MAYOR

General Construction Work Ready To Start on New Buildings; Bond Groups Meet Today.

Encouraged by prospect of approval today by the bond commission of the electrical contract for the first five school projects to be authorized from school bond funds, Mayor L. N. Raggs Tuesday signed general contracts which will permit the Palmer-Spicer company to begin preparations for the work, which it is expected will start Monday.

In announcing his intention to sign the paper, the mayor declared that every indication points to an adjustment of differences between city council and the bond commission and the board of education and early sanction of a contract by which the electrical work could be begun by the time the general contractors are ready.

Wife of Slain Man Denies That Husband Threatened W. B. Aycock, Wayne Police Chief.

WITNESSES RELATE STORY OF SHOOTING

Jesup, Ga., November 29. (AP)—Ernest Dyal, member of a wealthy south Georgia family, had a pistol in his pocket when he was shot and killed on a highway near here last August by Chief W. B. Aycock of the Wayne county police, but never drew it, his widow testified at the officer's trial here today on a charge of murder.

Appearing as the first witness after a jury had been selected, Mrs. Dyal, the former Ruth Finlayson, of a well-known Chermak, S. C. family and a bride of only two months at the time of the slaying, gave a graphic account of events leading up to the shooting.

She was en route to their home in McKee with her husband after a week-end automobile trip to the seaside when young Dyal was shot down after an encounter with Chief Aycock on the highway, and it was chiefly on her testimony that the prosecution expected to base its case. Her statement about her husband's gun was in contrast to the defense claim that Aycock shot Dyal in self-defense after the latter had menaced him with his pistol.

Mrs. Dyal's Testimony.

"We were driving toward Jesup, my husband and I, in a roadster automobile," she said. "My husband missed a detour sign which we meant to take. As we backed up toward it, another car passed us. Finally, we got into the detour, but our car wouldn't 'pick up.' The other car had returned."

Mrs. Aycock approached us, leaped on the side of the car and turned off the ignition switch. He grabbed my husband's wrist and exclaimed: 'What do you mean by this?' Both of us were surprised to say anything, not knowing what it was all about. My husband had never uttered a word. He (Aycock) continued to shake Ernest, having him firmly grasped by the arms. I screamed and Aycock fell of the side of the car. Neither I nor my husband pushed him off—he fell off. It was then he fired the shot which killed Ernest. He shot from behind us and the bullet went into Ernest's back."

"Mr. Hammond, a traveling man, had reached us about that time and he carried the relation and conduct of the time he was incarcerated in Atlanta prison for violations of the law. Mrs. Dyal on the stand, and testified that Dyal's body bore three bullet wounds, 'any one of which was sufficient to cause death.' Dr. John C. Malley, of Helena, said to have been a boyhood friend of Dyal, testified to the impairment of Dyal's eyes."

Gun in Pocket.

Questioned by prosecution counsel, the young widow declared that her husband carried the revolver in his pocket at the time and that he never removed it.

She said Dyal was blind in one eye and able to see only poorly out of the other and that in addition, one arm was partially paralyzed.

Dr. T. G. Rife, state's witness, followed Mrs. Dyal on the stand, and testified that Dyal's body bore three bullet wounds, 'any one of which was sufficient to cause death.' Dr. John C. Malley, of Helena, said to have been a boyhood friend of Dyal, testified to the impairment of Dyal's eyes."

Young Mother Kills Baby Because Crying 'Annoys' Her

Quincy, Mass., November 29. (United News.)—A young mother who killed her five-week-old baby because its crying "annoyed" her was in Dedham jail tonight, awaiting examination by alienists, who will determine whether she must stand trial for murder.

Earlier in the day Mrs. Madeline Otterson, 20, only recently recovered from a nervous breakdown, and brooding over domestic finances, had smothered her infant son, Stanley, with a pillow slip, wrapped the body in a blanket and carried it a mile and a half to the district courthouse.

"Is it dead? Is my baby dead?" she asked Policeman Edward Young, calmly turning back the blanket that the officer might see her strange burden.

The amazed policeman summoned another officer, who took the body to City hospital. Mrs. Otterson was taken into an ante-room to await questioning.

After hospital physicians pronounced the baby dead, the mother was arrested. Mrs. Otterson appeared in court for hearing Friday. Warren Otterson, her husband, was summoned from Boston, where he is employed as a machinist for the Boston elevated railroad, but was unable to secure the bond. His wife was taken to the county jail at Dedham.

MRS. WILLEBRANDT BROUGHT INTO CASE

BY ORVILLE DWYER.
Cincinnati, Ohio, November 29.—These points stood out today in the court battle of George Remus to save himself from the electric chair for the murder of his wife, Imogene:

Judge Chester R. Shook warned prosecutor Charles P. Taft, II, and his forces that they must prepare to back up implications that Allen Curry, of St. Louis, for four years United States deputy attorney for the eastern district of Missouri, a defense witness, was "forced to resign through charges of malfeasance in office and because he became involved in a white slave case."

Both Attorney Curry and Attorney Benton S. Oppenheimer, of Cincinnati, law partner of the late Judson Harmon, governor of Ohio, testified they were certain Remus was insane for a period before he shot down his wife in Eden Park on the morning of October 6, when she was going to court for the trial of her divorce case.

Attorney Oppenheimer described to the jury how Remus suddenly went "raving mad" when he went to his beautiful home and found it stripped of all his belongings.

Boast of Deportation.

William Mueller, stolid 60-year-old caretaker of the mansion on Price Hill, narrated to the jury how Mrs. Remus and Franklin L. Dodge, Jr., the dry sleuth who had sent Remus to the Atlanta federal prison, were at the Remus home together; how they boasted they would have Remus deported; "send him back to Germany with 11¢ little bundle just like he came"; how they moved out the furniture, clothing, books and objects of art, then nailed its 30 to 40 doors tight with big spikes.

Remus charged that an indictment for perjury returned by the grand jury yesterday against Vernon R. Chumley, another defense witness, was "not predicated upon any fact, but upon manufactured and concluded affidavits instigated by" prosecutor Taft and his associates because "they know said Chumley to be a witness dangerous to the prosecution." Chumley was indicted in connection with a deposition taken last month for Remus in the divorce proceedings that Remus ended by killing his wife.

Remus is pleading that he was insane when he shot Imogene. He charged that the relation and conduct of the time he was incarcerated in Atlanta prison for violations of the law. Mrs. Dyal on the stand, and testified that Dyal's body bore three bullet wounds, 'any one of which was sufficient to cause death.' Dr. John C. Malley, of Helena, said to have been a boyhood friend of Dyal, testified to the impairment of Dyal's eyes."

RAIL MAN GIVES HOPE FOR DEPOT

Public Relations Director of N. C. & St. L. Says Executives Are Considering New Plans.

Hope was seen Tuesday for early replacement of the old Union station when Robert S. Henry, public relations director of the N. C. & St. L. Railway company, disclosed the fact that chiefs of railroads operating from the terminal have considered many plans looking towards a new depot and indicated that the work is still being pushed.

Mr. Henry's statement was made in an address before members of the Lions club, and was followed by appeals for early and definite action from Joseph R. Wolfe, president of the club; Herbert Porter, president of the Inter-Civic council, and Dr. Herbert Kennedy, president of the Atlanta Junior Chamber of Commerce.

While Mr. Henry did not say definitely just what shape the plans are taking, he intimated that officials of railroads are still at work in an effort to map out a program which will furnish adequate and modern depot facilities and added that solution of "physical difficulties only remain to be dispensed."

This was taken as a signal for leaders of the civic organizations to issue strong appeals to railroad executives to keep at work on the problem in which citizens of Atlanta are so vitally interested and to make all preliminary plans as soon as possible in an effort to avert any delay in beginning the replacement construction as soon as feasible.

Railroads Cooperate.

"We were pleased to hear that the railroad executives are taking an active interest in an attempt to solve the depot problem at the Union station," Dr. Wolfe said. "It is an encouraging sign. Our plea is that they keep at the matter until a final definite plan is agreed upon. They really Atlanta is entitled to better terminal facilities, that the present station is antiquated and inadequate. We are glad that the move is on to replace it. That there are many difficulties confronting establishment of a new terminal in that area is recognized. Our hope is that the roads will continue the study with such diligence that until in the very near future our hopes and ambitions for the new station will be realized."

"Mr. Henry's statement Tuesday has inspired us to earnestly ask that the railroads continue the effort to find a solution of the problem."

CITATION SERVED ON HARRY SINCLAIR IN OIL SCANDALS

As one phase of the Fall-Sinclair oil conspiracy case closed today with the serving of a contempt citation on Harry F. Sinclair, another developed.

Chairman Norris, of the senate judiciary committee, announced he would introduce a resolution directing the public lands committee to resume its investigation into the whole naval oil leasing situation.

The committee particularly would try to determine whether any of the profits of the Continental Trading Company, Ltd., of Canada, reached Albert B. Fall, then secretary of the interior, when the Teapot Dome lease was negotiated.

Governor's Charge.

In the conspiracy case which ended recently in a mistrial, the government charged that $230,500 in Liberty bonds out of $3,000,000 worth purchased by the Continental company, reached Fall through his son-in-law, M. T. Everhart, of Pueblo, Colo. At the trial Everhart refused to testify on the grounds that to do so might incriminate him.

Sinclair and Henry Mason Day, vice president of the Sinclair Exploration company, were served with contempt citations in New York today. Their associates, Sheldon Clark, W. J. Burns, internationally-known detective, his son, W. S. Burns, and C. L. Veitsch, Burns' Baltimore manager, were served yesterday.

Must Show Cause.

The citations required the sextet to show cause in the District of Columbia supreme court next Monday why they should not be punished for criminal contempt of court because of the Chemist Testifies to Finding Stains of Blood on Her Pocketbook.

BY SAM LOVE.
Courtroom, Mass. Landis, N. J., November 29.—(United News.)—Mrs. Margaret Lillendahl broke down and wept bitterly today while the prosecution reached into her own handbag for the strongest evidence yet offered to connect her with the murder of her husband.

Dr. Louis Myers, a chemist, climaxed a day of damaging testimony by coldly and impersonally testifying that he found stains of human blood upon the purse itself, upon three $5 bills and on her notebook inside the purse.

"The stains are human blood—there is no doubt about it," said the chemist, who had described himself as an expert in such matters.

Identifies Stains As Blood.

He identified as blood, stains upon the widow's dress and stockings. Out of the modish black purse, with dainty handkerchief and a powder puff, came also two automobile road maps. Pencil crosses roughly corresponded to a lonely swamp lane just off the road where the body of Dr. William Lillendahl was found with bullet-riddled head.

Chief of defense council, Robert H. Carter, snorted and puffed indignantly.

Mussolini Announces Intention of Keeping Adriatic Italian Sea Regardless of Results.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
(Copyright, 1927, for The Constitution, The Chicago Tribune.)

Rome, November 29.—Proclaiming defiance in scarcely veiled language, both to France and the League of Nations, Premier Benito Mussolini, tonight, through the fascist party organ Foglio d'Ordine, announced Italy's intentions of keeping the Adriatic an Italian sea, at whatever costs.

Il Duce's pronouncement was a formal reply to the Jugo-Slav comments on the Italo-Albanian treaty, through the official Belgrade agency, "Avaz," and probably was the strongest utterance he has made since the Corfu affair, four years ago.

RUSSIA IS READY TO CUT HER ARMY

Peace of Europe, Now Threatened by Polish-Lithuanian Row, May Depend on Meeting.

BY HENRY WOOD.
Geneva, November 29.—(United News.)—The great nations of the world are ready for the important conference of the League of Nations preparatory disarmament commission which opens tomorrow, inaugurating the most vital two weeks in the history of the league. The peace of Europe, now threatened by differences of Poland and Lithuania, may depend upon this meeting.

The soviet delegation is armed with a drastic disarmament program, but England, France and Italy, and possibly the United States, will do their utmost to prevent the soviet delegation from deviating from the agenda of the conference and making it the occasion for a general debate.

Proposals of Soviet.

Maxim Litvinoff, soviet assistant foreign commissioner and head of the Russian delegation, has prepared a disarmament declaration which will criticize sharply the previous work of the preliminary disarmament conference, announce concrete proposals for radical disarmament and submit a resolution summarizing the soviet's attitude toward disarmament.

For seven years the nations have talked disarmament, but have gotten nowhere. Even now, the indications are that nothing more than the creation of a security commission may be achieved by the present conference.

The nations of the western front, which succeeded in settling their relations largely by the meeting of the League of Nations council, comes when the nations of Europe are emerging from a war scare.

Unrest in Balkans.

In the Balkans and the Baltic there has been unrest during the past week. Italy and Albania have signed a treaty as a challenge to the compact of France and Jugo-Slavia. Russia has warned Poland that it must keep

MADDEN TO FIGHT DOHENY'S DEMAND

BY CECIL OWEN.
Washington, November 29.—(United News)—Any attempt by E. L. Doheny, oil magnate, to have Congress reimburse him for money he spent in construction of oil storage tanks at Pearl Harbor naval base in Hawaii will be opposed by Representative Martin B. Madden, Illinois.

Doheny's lawyer, Frank Hogan, has announced that Congress will be asked to appropriate $15,000,000 for this purpose. This sum represents the amount which Doheny was forced to return to the government when the supreme court last year canceled the Elk Hills naval reserve oil lease, and Doheny contends he is entitled to that amount for building the Pearl Harbor storage tanks.

Madden expressed his attitude on the Doheny request in emphatic terms, declaring that his committee would never approve such an appropriation. Madden told the United News: "Doheny has no legal claim whatsoever to the Pearl Harbor tanks. When the supreme court cancelled the Elk Hills lease it branded the deal whereby Doheny acquired those reserves as fraudulent. Including George N. Peck, chairman of the executive committee of 22 of the corn belt, are known to be the staunch advocates of this measure.

The farm representatives announced they wanted "no government price-fixing or government subsidy direct or indirect." This was emphasized at a conference with Senator McNary, of Oregon, new chairman of the senate agriculture committee, who is seeking to work out a solution of agriculture legislative problems.

This statement was regarded as indicative of displeasure over proposals mentioned as a compromise for the McNary-Haugen bill for the setting up by the treasury of a revolving fund of $250,000,000 from which the losses in marketing surplus crops would be met.

Among those attending the meeting were B. W. Kilgore, president of the North Carolina Cotton Growers' association; E. A. O'Neil, president of the Alabama Farm Bureau federation; J. S. Kelso, of Kentucky, representing the Burley Tobacco Growers' association; A. W. Ricker, secretary of the Corn Belt Federation of Farm Organizations; W. H. Settle, president of the Indiana Farm Bureau; Earl C. Smith, president of the Illinois Agriculture association; W. W. Pitts and Harry Williams, representing the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton association; C. W. Gross, president of the South Dakota Wheat Growers' association; Judge J. C. Cerny, president of the Missouri Cotton Growers' association; and Chester C. Davis, of agriculture service.

planned and controlled by the national chamber of commerce. The chamber is opposed to all measures of taxation in excess of those requirements.

Reduction of Debt.
"It does not believe that unusual surpluses now should be amassed to be used for debt retirement. From sinking fund requirements of congress alone, the national debt will be reduced in the next 14 years to an amount equal to the reduction in the last eight years. To this figure must be added the national debt surplus, $1,000,000,000 on June 30, 1925, after making provisions for statutory requirements for national debt reduction. Therefore, a tax cut of $1,000,000,000 on the taxes paid in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1928, would use only $200,000,000, leaving a surplus of at least $255,000,000.

"It is evident that a continuance of the normal increase of business and the growth of earning power of the country will increase return in taxation more than sufficient to care for the full needs of the government in 1929 and thereafter.

PACT IS REACHED BY FARM LEADERS

Washington, November 29.—(United News)—A group of farm organization leaders assembled in Washington today to discuss legislative plans for the approaching congress and the announcement was given out that the spokesmen gathered here were in entire accord to a bill to aid in the control of surplus crops.

The announcement made no mention of the vetoed McNary-Haugen bill, but those attending the conference, including George N. Peck, chairman of the executive committee of 22 of the corn belt, are known to be the staunch advocates of this measure.

U. S. TO SELL PART OF CAMP KNOX GROUND
Washington, November 29.—(United News)—Part of the Camp Knox, Ky., military reservation, consisting of about 150 acres of farm land near the town of West Point, will be offered for sale. Bids will be opened at the war department December 29.

planned and controlled by the national chamber of commerce. The chamber is opposed to all measures of taxation in excess of those requirements.

Reduction of Debt.
"It does not believe that unusual surpluses now should be amassed to be used for debt retirement. From sinking fund requirements of congress alone, the national debt will be reduced in the next 14 years to an amount equal to the reduction in the last eight years. To this figure must be added the national debt surplus, $1,000,000,000 on June 30, 1925, after making provisions for statutory requirements for national debt reduction. Therefore, a tax cut of $1,000,000,000 on the taxes paid in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1928, would use only $200,000,000, leaving a surplus of at least $255,000,000.

"It is evident that a continuance of the normal increase of business and the growth of earning power of the country will increase return in taxation more than sufficient to care for the full needs of the government in 1929 and thereafter.

Chamber Principles.

Mystery Injected Into Death Of Girl Declared Suicide

Miss Louise Montebello.

Birmingham, Ala., November 29.—(Special.)—The death of Miss Louise Montebello, pretty saleswoman, is being investigated by authorities.

She died in her automobile, from a bullet wound in the head, while on her way from Calera to Birmingham. A police officer was riding with her.

Arrested for Speeding.
He told Birmingham authorities that Miss Montebello for speeding and that while he was accompanying her to Birmingham, she drew a gun and killed herself.

Certain officials, however, who questioned the suicide theory, pointed out that the girl's face showed no powder burns which, they declared, would have been present had she fired the shot.

The case was called to the attention of Attorney General Charles G. McCall, who personally conducted an investigation until called to prosecute another case.

The attorney general reported to the governor there was evidence of "contradictions" in the story.

Miss Montebello, 26, was a sewing machine saleswoman and lived in Calera, Ala.

An autopsy report declared the wound was made by a larger sized bullet than found in the revolver belonging to the girl.

VARE CONFIDENT HE WILL WIN SEAT

Washington, November 29.—(United News.)—Senator-elect V. S. Vare, of Pennsylvania, one of the two men among whom is to revolve one of the most bitter contests in the senate in several years, came to Washington today with an announcement of his entire confidence that he will be seated.

Frank L. Smith, of Illinois, whose right to a senate place also is challenged because of primary campaign expenditures, will arrive in a day or two for conferences with his friends before the conflict begins on the floor with the convening of the seventeenth congress Monday.

While the two senators-elect will be asked to stand aside when they present themselves for the oath of office, republican leaders are hopeful of an agreement to defer the war of words over the right to seats until the senate can be reorganized and the way cleared for President Coolidge to send up his annual message Tuesday.

Senator-elect Vare said he came to Washington with "the absolute expectation" that he would take the seat "to which the people of the state of Pennsylvania elected me."

"The right of a state to representation is fundamental," he declared. "Our whole national life began on this issue. I have never been able to picture the United States senate invalidating that right because of political expediency, nor do I now anticipate such a procedure.

"My confidence, therefore, is natural. I welcome the minutest scrutiny of the primary and the election in Pennsylvania, because such scrutiny will determine beyond question the legality and the propriety of every expenditure made by the campaign committee. We followed the law even in the primaries, where it does not legally apply, and we followed the spirit of it in both campaigns."

It was said, too, the ear indicated a struggle had taken place. State authorities point to other inconsistencies concerning the place of the shooting, whether there was liquor in the car as contended by the officers, and as to what occurred after the officers stopped the car.

Another point being investigated is whether the weapon turned over to the state authorities as the one used by the girl, was hers. W. T. Allison, of the girl's home town, says it was not.

There also will be several children. Dr. Lewis said, "And as several expectant mothers will make the journey, there will be children born in the city of the Nile. Establishment of families will be encouraged."

The colony will abandon modern dress for costume of the ancient Egyptians, and will forsake mechanical implements for the crude tools of 1500 B. C. They are to live according to the principles propounded by Amenhotep in an effort to demonstrate that these laws have not lost their value for the human race.

Mark Twain Association Selects 10 Best Quotations

New York, November 29.—(United News.)—Ten of the most pithy quotations, selected from the works of the late Mark Twain, have been announced by the Mark Twain association today on the eve of the great humorist's birthday.

A committee of judges announced that Miss Vida B. Stallwood, of Syracuse, N. Y., has won a nation-wide contest with her ten selected quotations from Twain's works. The judges were William Lyon Phelps, Max Eastman and Albert Bigelow Paine. Miss Stallwood's selections follow:

"Often it seems such a pity that Noah and his party did not miss the boat."—Christian Science.

"Training is everything. The peach was once a bitter almond; cauliflower is nothing but cabbage with a college education."—Pudd'nhead Wilson.

"To be good is noble, but to show others how to be good is nobler and no trouble."—Following the Equator.

"Arguments have no chance against petrified training; they wear it as little as waves wear a cliff."—A Connecticut Yankee.

"Be careless in your dress if you must, but keep a tidy soul."—Following the Equator.

"We have a criminal jury system which is superior to any in the world, and its efficiency is only marred by the difficulty of finding 12 men ever day who don't know anything and can't read."—Sketches New and Old.

"If you are with the quality, or at a funeral, or trying to sleep when you are sleepy—if you are anywhere where it won't do for you to scratch, why you will feel all over in upward of a thousand places."—Huckleberry Finn.

"When the literary German dives into a sentence, that is the last you are going to see of him till he emerges on the other side of the Atlantic with his verb in his mouth."—A Connecticut Yankee.

DISPUTE OVER FERRY IS TAKEN TO HIGH COURT

Washington, November 29.—(United News.)—The controversy between Natchez, Miss., and Mrs. Louise B. McNeely in vying the right of the city to control the operation of a ferry across the Mississippi to Vidalia, La., has been submitted to the supreme court for decision without oral argument. The questions at issue are in some respects different from those involved in the controversy which the court decided against Vidalia.

Try This Before Making Engine Repairs
CHECK the ignition and look over the spark plugs over whenever the engine falls short of the fine performance that it once had.

Many times expensive repair bills are incurred when all that was needed was a new set of spark plugs. A spark plug in time deteriorates, and needs to be replaced.

When you buy spark plugs, be sure to insist on A.C.—the make on which Lindbergh, Byrd and other great flyers staked their lives. You, too, can have the same spark plugs.

SIGMA NUS MEET ON EVE OF GAME

The annual convention of the Georgia-Alabama-Flores Sigma Nu association will be an interesting event of the Tech-Georgia football week, and December 2 and 3, and will assemble one of the largest college fraternity gatherings held in this section in a number of years. Prominent members of Sigma Nu who are outstanding figures in political, social, educational and civil life from the three states will be in attendance to make the convention one of the most representative to be held.

United States Senator Walter F. George, of Vienna, is president of the association, and has displayed a prominent and active part in its activities. Borden Burr, national president of Sigma Nu, is also in attendance. A former regent of the fraternity, is first vice president, and Allen Woodall, of Columbus, is second vice president. R. L. Fagan, of Fort Valley, secretary-treasurer, and Sam M. Worley, Atlanta, is publicity director. These officers were named at the last meeting of the association which was held in Columbus, Ga.

The business session of the association will be held Saturday morning at the Georgia Terrace hotel at 11 o'clock, when reports of delegates sent from the collegiate and alumni chapters of the fraternity will be heard and the city for the next meeting named. Outstanding matters relative to the activities of the fraternity in the three states will be discussed and a general business meeting will follow.

Out-of-town members and delegates are directed to register at room 131 Piedmont hotel, where full particulars concerning the activities for the weekend will be explained.

Entertainment for the convention will be furnished by the Atlanta alumni chapter of Sigma Nu, headed by Percy Megather, president, in conjunction with Gamma Alpha chapter, of Georgia Tech, and Xi chapter, of Emory university. Schedule music and an interesting and unique program have been arranged.

In charge of which R. L. Fagan is chairman.

HOLIDAY BOOZE TRAFFIC TARGET OF PROHI SQUAD

Renewed efforts of the federal prohibition squad to stem the tide of holiday booze were reflected Tuesday in reports turned in to Deputy Administrator H. P. Wright's office here.

Agents W. M. Weaver and J. E. Wallace led the force during the past week, their seizures including a large touring car and 50 gallons of whiskey in Forsyth county. Clyde Boling was arrested.

A large distillery was destroyed in Milton county, and the agents captured two automobiles in Dawson county with 125 gallons. They cut down a large distillery, destroying 3,000 gallons of beer, as well.

Agent F. L. Souther reported the destruction of 2,600 gallons of still beer in Towns county, and two unusually large distilleries.

YULE CEREMONIAL WILL BE OBSERVED BY SHRINERS HERE

Tom C. A meeting of the committee will be held Friday night at Shrine headquarters to arrange details of the opening.

The annual business meeting of the temple will be held December 19, at which time officers will be elected. All applications for membership must be in the recorder's possession on December 12, accompanied by a check for $100.00. Recorder George E. Argard announced.

EMORY GRADUATE IS GIVEN SHATTUCK AWARD AT HARVARD

Emory University, Ga., November 29.—(Special.)—The Shattuck scholarship in the graduate school at Harvard has been awarded to C. B. Millican, a graduate of Emory in the class of 1922, according to an announcement Tuesday by Dr. James H. Hinton, head of the Emory English department.

During his stay at Emory, Millican was one of the outstanding scholars and student leaders of the institution. He was at one time editor-in-chief of the Emory Wheel, was president of the university student body in 1921 and 1922, a member in the R. O. T. C. unit and was prominent in sports and debate. He graduated Magna Cum Laude.

Roper Orphans Seek $10,000 Damages For Parents' Death

Suit for $40,000 damages against the Campbell Coal company, the Treat Rite Stores, Inc., and C. C. Martin was filed Tuesday morning in Fulton superior court by the children of Mr. and Mrs. David E. Roper, who were killed here in an automobile accident on October 8.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Whitehall and Wylie streets. Mr. and Mrs. Roper and their daughter, Mrs. Teems, started across the street when the coal truck was struck by the Treat Rite truck. The latter was hurled against Mr. and Mrs. Roper, inflicting fatal injuries.

Mr. Martin, who was the driver of the Treat Rite truck, was indicted on a charge of murder in connection with the accident, but acquitted by a jury in Fulton superior court.

The suit was brought by D. O. Roper, M. H. Roper, M. G. Roper, Mrs. J. O. Roper and Mrs. L. M. Teems and sought to collect damages for the death of Mr. Roper. No suit has been brought for damages for the death of the mother. The plaintiffs are represented by the law firm of Branch and Howard.

Reed Discards Police Uniform After 34 Years

Lieutenant W. P. Reed, for 34 years a wearer of the blue uniform of the Atlanta police department, today is a civilian. Tuesday he tendered his resignation to the chief and filed for final application with the police pension board for his stipend in remuneration for his long time of service.

In addition to that, Lieutenant Reed announced that for the "rest time" in 34 years he will witness a jubilee contest as a "mere spectator," sitting in the bleachers instead of patrolling the field. He will attend the Tech-Georgia feud Saturday in that capacity.

Lieutenant Reed is 66 years old and is one of the most popular members of the department. He patrolled many of Atlanta's principal streets when they were little more than lanes, and knew Atlanta when the population was still counted in five figures.

GEORGIA DRAMATIC CLUB PREPARING FOR SHOWING HERE

Athens, Ga., November 29.—(Special.)—The cast of "The Old Soak," presentation of the Georgian Dramatic club of the University of Georgia, to be given in Atlanta at 8:45 o'clock Friday night in the Atlanta Woman's club auditorium, will hold its final dress rehearsal in a practice performance to be given in Athens at the Georgia State Teachers' college Wednesday night.

Many alumni are expected to attend the performance, according to Robert L. Patterson, Athens, business manager. Arrangements have been made for the adjournment of the alumni banquet at the Atlanta Elmore hotel, which is expected to attract over a thousand Georgia alumni in time for the performance. The Thelians will present a short skit at the banquet.

The Boys' High concert orchestra will render several of its classical numbers before and after the performance, as well as between the acts.

$151,000 RAISED FOR OGLETHORPE

Contributions in the local drive for raising the Oglethorpe $500,000 endowment fund were pushed to a total of $151,000, lacking $99,000 of the Atlanta quota necessary to obtain the $250,000 contingent gift offered by J. Thomas Lupton, of Chattanooga. Dr. Thornevell Jacobs, president of Oglethorpe, announced Tuesday after tallying reports of the workers.

The largest donation to date, accepting the conditional gift of $250,000 by Mr. Lupton, was the $25,000 donation recently made by W. R. Hearst, publisher, Dr. Jacobs said, continuing that if a similar sum would be subscribed by some citizen or group of residents of this city, in which the beneficiary institution is located, it would greatly enhance the possibility of clinching the Lupton contingent offer.

Another important need which must be supplied by Atlantians is the requirement of more volunteer workers to aid in the campaign. Dr. Jacobs said, "There are only 25 persons on the citizens' committee giving their time to the work, while 100 are needed to carry the campaign successfully and swiftly to a close. That this can be done if Atlantians will respond to the urgent call for workers is indicated by the donations coming each day through the mails. Dr. Jacobs stated he had been receiving on an average of $100 daily through the mails, accompanied by notes from the citizens, expressing their desire to carry the campaign for all workers in the campaign are held daily at the Henry Grady hotel at noon. Dr. Jacobs stated, the college president was the principal speaker at the regular meeting of the Atlanta Civic club Tuesday. He talked on the history of Oglethorpe and outlined the improvements that would result from the raising of a $500,000 endowment fund. A vote following his talk called for a special committee of citizens to be appointed to aid in the campaign.

CIVITANS SUBMIT NOMINATING LIST FOR NEW OFFICERS

Dr. Thornevell Jacobs, president of Oglethorpe university, was principal speaker at the regular weekly luncheon of the Civitan club Tuesday at 12:30 o'clock at the Atlanta Athletic club. R. Graham West, president, was in charge.

Dr. Jacobs reviewed the history of the founding of the university and asked the help of the Civitan club in raising $250,000 necessary to match a similar donation from J. T. Lupton, of Chattanooga, Tenn.

A musical program by members of the Southern Bell Telephone company orchestra was given.

A report of the nominating committee from which the new officers will be elected at the annual election of officers on December 13 was submitted as follows:

President, Herbert Z. Hopkins and Joseph T. Rose.

Vice presidents, R. C. Broyles, Milton Dargan, Jr., Andrew M. Fairlie, Floyd Field, Joel Hunter and J. N. Reisman.

Treasurer, Everett N. Brown and Alva G. Maxwell.

Directors, Dewald Cohen, Earl Knight, Powers Pace, Roy Pett, Earl Quillian and Lewis D. Sharp.

Members of the nominating committee were Herbert Porter, chairman; Julian V. Boehm and Harry Root, all past presidents of the Civitan club.

FORESTRY BOARD FAVORS SUBJECTS IN GEORGIA SCHOOLS

The state forestry board Tuesday gave its endorsement to the teaching of forestry subjects and the general educational movement in regard to forestry contemplated by the state school system, it was announced by Ronnell H. Stone, chairman. The meeting was held in the office of Governor L. G. Hardman.

At the session, the governor tendered a gift of 600 acres of land to the federal forestry department to be used for research work in the growing of hardwood timber. This offer will be forwarded to the proper governmental authorities by the board. The gift was made conditional on the fact that the government appropriate enough money to develop the experiments along lines suggested by the governor.

CLARKE COUNTY GIRL GIVEN TRIP FOR CLUB RECORD

Athens, Ga., November 29.—(Special.)—Miss Mary Todd, of Clarke county, has left for Chicago to attend the sixth National Boy and Girl club conference as guest of the Seaboard Air Line railroad.

Miss Todd made an excellent record in 4-H club work and the trip to Chicago is a reward for her work. The trip was awarded by the Southeastern fair. The exhibit at the fair consisted of canned and preserved products and sewing and the record and history of her club life.

Miss Todd is a contestant for a long term scholarship to be given at the end of the year on excellent club records.

Chest Agencies Planning Yuletide Good Cheer Work

While the Community Chest pressed its appeal for contributions to make up the deficit of $50,000 in its fund for 1928 operations, a new detail of its human service to the public was revealed yesterday.

Under the chest plan of central organization which has been declared so effective in preventing duplications, reducing expenses, and assuring wider distribution of charity funds, the 35 agencies of the chest have undertaken to see that no needy family in Atlanta goes without the makings of a bountiful Christmas.

There are many such families in Atlanta this year and, happily, many individuals and organizations eager to provide good cheer for those homes which otherwise would be dreary. It is here that the services of the Community Chest and its 35 agencies enter into the scheme of happiness.

Records of the 35 agencies are consolidated in the Social Service exchange, one of the branches of the chest. In the files of this clearing house are listed 33,000 families, who, in the history of organized charity in Atlanta, have been in need of assistance of one kind or another. Most of these, through the constructive help given by the chest agencies, have become independent, but many yet remain in dire want.

At a glance, Mrs. E. M. Watters, secretary of the Social Service exchange, is able to tell which of these needy families will be provided with Christmas cheer from one source or another, and which are likely to be neglected.

"But it is our job to see that none is neglected," said Mrs. Watters. "Without such records as the chest maintains, there would be a danger of many poor families being overlooked, while others receive gifts doubly or trebly; but with such records, it is easy to prevent duplication and to guide big-hearted individuals or organizations to homes where brightness is needed."

"Any individual or organization may call the Social Service exchange, at Walnut 3211, and learn the names of families who need help and remembrance at Christmas time."

"We have learned through past experience how to help in the distribution of Christmas charity. There have been in the past many such calls. And we can fill them readily. If a man asks for a family in which there is one boy or three, we have such a family on our lists. If a class or group of little girls wants a child of their age whom Santa Claus is likely to forget, we can find one for them. If a childless home wants one child or six for Christmas dinner or a Christmas tree, we can find them, exactly in the age, number, or sex desired. We know which of our agencies needs most a helping hand and which already has been helped."

"In that way we can make sure that there will be no heartaches at Christmas time, no case of one group being overloaded and surfeited with Christmas bounty while others go neglected and unhappy."

"Service of this sort at Christmas time is a logical detail of the service which our exchange performs throughout the year in preventing duplication and waste of charity funds which the public entrusts to the Community Chest, and assuring that the money goes farther and is spent more effectively than it ever could be under a system of no coordination or cooperation among the city's agencies of charity."

Athens, Ga., November 29.—(Special.)—Professor E. C. White, member of the faculty of the University of Georgia, was reported critically ill today. Professor White has been confined to his bed for several days.

REDDING'S FATE IN JURY'S HANDS

Greenville, Ga., November 29.—(Special.)—The fate of Marshall Redding, negro, on trial for his life in connection with the fatal shooting of Manchester Police Chief W. H. Callaway on September 17, was still unknown at an early hour tonight. The jury, following a 30-minute charge, retired at 3:55 o'clock this afternoon and at 7:30 o'clock tonight was apparently no nearer a verdict. The charge to the jury involved first degree murder and voluntary manslaughter.

Testifying today in his own behalf, Redding maintained that he fired on the police chief only after the latter had begun to administer a beating to the negro's wife and that his action was solely in defense of his mate.

Chief Callaway, in company with J. E. Collier, superintendent of the Manchester street department, had visited the negro's home, according to Collier's testimony Monday, in search of Redding's son, who, it is said, had deserted the street cleaning corps of Manchester while serving a sentence given him in city court. Collier stated that as the Redding woman under arrest on a charge of disorderly conduct Redding fired on the officer without warning.

The trial of Redding is being conducted in Meriwether superior court and follows the convening of a special term of the Meriwether county grand jury Monday by Judge C. E. Roop for the purpose of investigating the charge of murder against the negro. Redding was promptly indicted and trial began immediately.

IMPORTANT FACTS ABOUT THE NEW FORD CAR

Complete details of the new model will be available this FRIDAY in this city

FRIDAY of this week will unquestionably be one of the most important days in the entire life of the automobile industry. On that day, complete details of the new Ford will be available in this city.

You will be surprised when you get the facts about the new Ford car, for you never have dreamed that such a really fine car could be produced at a low price. As Henry Ford himself says—

"The new Ford car embodies the best results of our experience in making 15,000,000 automobiles. We consider it our most important contribution thus far to the progress of the motor industry, to the prosperity of the country, and to the daily welfare of millions of people."

The new Ford car is distinctly a new and modern car, designed to meet new and modern conditions. It is more than a new automobile. It is the advanced expression of a wholly new idea in modern, economical transportation.

An entirely new car in every respect

The minute you see it—ride in it—you will realize that it is not a mere refinement of the former model T Ford, but a new car from radiator cap to rear axle! Many features of it are exclusive Ford developments. Some are wholly new in automobile practice. There is nothing quite like it in quality and price.

The new Ford car has unusual beauty of line and color. . . . It has a 40-horse-power engine. . . . It will do 55 and 60 miles an hour with ease and has actually run 65 miles an hour on road tests. . . . It is quiet and smooth-running at all speeds. . . . It is remarkably quick on the get-away. . . . It has specially designed mechanical four-wheel brakes. . . . It has hydraulic shock absorbers. . . . It has a standard, selective gear shift. . . . It is quick and easy to handle in traffic and steady and sure on the open road. . . . It runs 20 to 30 miles on a gallon of gasoline, depending on your speed. . . . And it has the stamina and reliability that you need for mile-after-mile and year-after-year service.

The new Ford car has exceptional beauty of line and color. It is, in every respect, a new and modern car, designed and created to meet modern conditions.

The new Ford car will sell at a surprisingly low price

When you think of such features as these, you think instinctively of a car costing much more than the new Ford. The low price is as unusual as the appearance and performance of the car itself.

The low prices of the six body types are undoubtedly lower than you thought they would be when you first heard that Ford was making a new car. They are, in fact, lower than we thought they could possibly be when we started to make this car.

We determined to bring new comfort, beauty, speed, safety, economy and reliability within reach of everybody who drives a car, and then forced ourselves to find ways to make the low prices possible.

The new Ford car is the result of years of careful planning. Every part of it has been tested and retested in actual practice. There is no guessing as to whether it will be a successful model. It has to be. There is no way it can escape being so, for it is the sum total of all we have learned about motor car building in the lifetime of the Ford business.

Some of the features of the new Ford car

In this connection we call your particular attention to the new engine; the new pump, splash and gravity oil system; the multiple dry-disc clutch; the new pump and thermo-syphon cooling system; the new battery, coil and distributor ignition; the low center of gravity and minimum unsprung weight which combine with the hydraulic shock absorbers to make the new Ford such an easy-riding car; the irreversible steering gear, with the column and the housing of the steering gear mechanism welded into a single all-steel unit; the seamless, all-steel torque tube; the new one-piece, welded, steel-spoke wheels; the three-quarters-floating rear axle in a forged-steel housing of exceptional strength; the theft-proof coincidental lock; and the aluminum pistons which were selected after many tests because of their light weight and heat-conducting qualities.

Steel forgings are used throughout

"The new Ford car embodies the best results of our experience in making 15,000,000 automobiles. We consider it our most important contribution thus far to the progress of the motor industry, to the prosperity of the country, and to the daily welfare of millions of people."

Henry Ford

except, of course, for the engine castings. More steel forgings, in fact, are used in the new Ford than in almost any other car, regardless of price.

WE ARE able to sell this new Ford car at a low price because we have found new ways to give you greater value without a great increase in our own costs. Because we own our own ore mines, coal mines and timber lands and the source of most of our raw materials. Because we make virtually every part used in the new Ford car. Because it is the Ford policy to make a small profit on a large number of cars, rather than a large profit on a small number of cars.

There is nothing like it in quality or price

No other manufacturer can possibly duplicate the new Ford car at the Ford price because no other manufacturer does business the way we do. The public made this business possible. We believe we should share our profits with the public by continually giving greater and greater value for the money.

There are good and substantial reasons, therefore, why the new Ford car is the most unusual value ever offered in a low-price car.

By all means, learn about the new Ford on Friday when it is officially announced in this city. You will know then that there is nothing quite like it anywhere in quality and price.

RALLY AROUND THE FLAG!

December 8 will be "Georgia day" in Washington.Indications are thousands from this state will journey there to pay fitting tribute to the memory of the great commoner, Alexander H.
Stephens.On that day in the Hall of Fame in the great capitol building a statue of this great Georgian and great American will be unveiled.There will be one of the most imposing parades perhaps ever staged in that city of the world's greatest demonstrations of the nation.The colors of the old Confederacy and of the united nation will blend in the capitol, at the white house and on the streets, and the patriotism of the people, demonstrative of Georgia's love for the Stars and Stripes of an all-American people, will be accentuated.The president will participate in the great event.The governor of Georgia and his staff will participate.Atlanta's Old Guard will participate.Atlanta's committee has asked that the Georgia Military academy send 300 of its cadets, and that the Georgia School of Technology and Emory university send 100 each of its respective uniformed student bodies.The executives of these institutions have agreed.What an imposing spectacle it will present! And how fitting!While all expenses cannot be paid, it is only right that Atlanta pay at least the railroad fares of these boys.To do this, and to meet other necessary expenses, the sum of $15,000 as a minimum will be required.The county commissioners and the city council have each contributed $5,000, which leaves a deficit of not less than $5,000.The citizens of Atlanta who are able—and thousands are able—should subscribe this $5,000 at once.The cause is commanding and the time is short.Rally around the flag! This is a national event in honor of Georgia and of one of the greatest of Georgians.Other cities in Georgia are rallying. Atlanta must do her part. And will!

THE COMING PEPPER WEEVIL.

There are 7,000 acres in Georgia on which peppers are grown. The crop is a profitable one for those who carefully cultivate the bell, chili and pimiento varieties. But the industry is now threatened with a destructive invasion by the Chile pepper weevil, first caught of the cotton boll weevil, that has come into the United States from Mexico.The pest has become so prevalent and damaging in California as to create a demand by the growers and packers of that state for federal appropriations to check the destruction. The senators and representatives of the state have taken up the demand at Washington and will seek the cooperation of the congressmen of other states where peppers are grown and are threatened with the spread of the pest in the wake of the boll weevil. Texas, Louisiana, Georgia and Florida are largely interested in the defense of their pepper crops from the destructive Chilean comorants.Last year the loss by them in Southern California was over $500,-000 and unless a check can be put against the pest the industry there will be ruined and millions invested in handling plants will be lost to the growers and packers.If any of our Georgia pepper producers have not already made the acquaintance of this alien "hot bird"
they can recognize him by his name, which is "anthrenomus anthonomus" and quite easy to remember and pronounce.But the serious thing is that he has a ticket reading into Georgia and our pepper people cannot be too early in calling upon our congressmen to back up the Californians in their demand for protection from the weevil. If he caused half a million dollars of damage last year to 8,000 acres of peppers in Orange county in California he can do almost equal damage to our 7,- 000 acres of the pods here in Georgia.

PAVING IN THE CAROLINAS.

Chairman Jones, of the South Carolina state highway commission, is quoted as saying that by December 31 that state will have constructed or authorized a total of $29,156 miles of hard-surfaced roads during the year 1927.The costs are estimated to total $13,200,547.35. It must be remembered that this is for new construction alone and does not include any maintenance costs. It does not include contracts aggregating several million dollars executed in 1927 for earth type roads and bridges. Mr.
Jones is quoted in the Greenville News as saying:"South Carolina is a very small state in area, containing only 20,389 square miles. I have made the assertion many times that South Carolina's paving program for 1927 is an equalled by any state in the southeast. The data shows the area of each of the southern states, and the paving mileage necessary to be let to contract in 1927 in each state to equal South Carolina's progress.None of them approach the wonderful paving progress now in full swing in South Carolina. I am informed that North Carolina, the southern pioneer, completed in her best year about 550 miles of paving. Based on area and what South Carolina is now doing she should have completed about 894 miles to even equal our present day program."South Carolina is proceeding on the "pay-as-you-go" plan, but the state is the unit under the law, and paved roads are connectedly built,
and not in patches.On the other hand, North Carolina, which is proceeding on the state bond plan—the bonds carried and retired by the motor taxes—has shown such marvelous economic progress under the system that the state has become "the talk" of the nation.Chairman Frank Page tells the story of five years of road building and its results—a state development of such enormous proportions that even the most enthusiastic good roads booster in Georgia has been amazed. Here are some of the results:North Carolina has increased the number of its farms by 13,000 during a period when the number of farms for the country as a whole has fallen off.It has built consolidated rural schools valued at $35,000,000. To each school day are brought 400, 000 pupils in 2,000 school buses operating 40,000 miles—largely on the state system.The state has developed 40 cooperative farm marketing associations, many of them stimulated by the state department of agriculture and engaged in shipping carload after carload of poultry, eggs, hogs, fruits and vegetables that the state formerly never grew for outside markets.Roadside markets and city outlets have stimulated the growing of truck produce on the farms and are the outlet for the farm surplus. The farm women are the merchandisers of this surplus and with the first available cash money most of them have ever had are putting modern conveniences in their homes, dressing themselves and their children better, painting their houses, beautifying their yards, and educating their children.In a recent statement Mr. Page said:"We have recovered our 'lost provinces'—those sections of the state to the far east and west formerly foreign to the state so far as transportation connections of any kind were concerned. To reach some of these points in our own state involved rail travel through one and sometimes two adjoining states. Our highways were out of the question for travel to these places. Today the roads have gone through and we have put every other part—almost from sunrise to sunset—over the state highway system."Mr. Page showed that North Carolina has built its state system and is maintaining it "entirely at the expense of the road user."Georgia is building roads. The state board is perhaps doing the best it can under the existing system, but the policy of making the counties issue ad valorem bonds to do the state's job is wrong. There are more than 60 "lost provinces" in the state, and so long as the county is kept the unit it will be impossible to complete a connected system.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

"Mare Nostrum."

One of the most striking phenomena in the lands surrounding the Mediterranean is the large number of Italian settlers and merchants. From Barcelona to Beyrouth and from Cairo to Smyrna the towns and cities are overflowing with Italians. The luminous squares of Marseille are filled with beautiful signoras, and an incredible number of bimbos, more dainty than beautiful. In Alexandria the third Italian newspaper has made its appearance and in Beyrouth Italian shipping companies are erecting their flag in the harbor and of fices in anticipation of the day when the new harbor shall be completed.
In Tunis, a French colony, the Italian settlers now outnumber the French by 40,000 and the school system of these settlers is linked with that of the Italian mainland, while inspectors, not from France, but from Italy, supervise the educational institution. In some harbors such as Alexandria, it was told that Italian shipping was second only to English. And Rome, Augusto Turati, secretary of the fascist party, showed no figures that demonstrated that Genoa for the first time in history had surpassed Marseille in tonnage. Another area which has become largely Italian in the last few years, since the United States enforced its restricted immigration policy, is the territory bound by the Red Sea, the Gulf of Aden, the mouth of the Grande. The land is considered the poorest in soil formation, but a million and a half Italian farmers, scattered over a hundred settlements, have not only repopulated this barren land, but have rendered it so amazingly productive that the French government plans to install a large number of French settlers along the main line which will turn the barren land into a garden of Eden.
Paris, Lyon, Marseille and Bordeaux.

Exit the Critics.

The conflict between the theater managers and dramatic critics of Paris appears to be coming to a head.
The latest offensive against the managers is being made by the dramatic critics, who are being invited to the theater. That would amount to the public elimination of the critics, as nothing they could say when a piece had been played 50 times could have any influence on the box-office receipts. In the case of a bad play they would not get the same results as in the case of a good one. In fact, as it would not survive so long, a hundred performances being a good "run" for even a fairly successful play in Paris. The contention of the managers is that the dramatic critics represent a distinct and very restricted section of the theater-going public and continually call for something that is not in accordance with general taste. It is the fact that they usually condemn plays which have a popular success. One of the main purposes of the local plan of critics is that most of them are playwrights as well and are thus suspected of rolling the log for one another.

The Sweet Way.

M. Poincare, the French premier, is often reproached with being a poor man. Even his friends look with suspicion at his attitude toward the parliament. He is reported to be "soft" and "easy." Charivari reports that M. Sarraut, minister of the interior, recently said to the premier: "You are a Lorraine about the head impression he made with his brusque replies. 'Try the sweet manner, once in a while,
Monsieur le President, smile at them;
they will be even more successful.'"
M. Sarraut is reported to have consented. So much so that the opposition papers made of it a "Grand Scandal."
The premier, however, is reported to have said: "I will be always in the same humor for you, my dear sir, if you withdraw your proposition." It was done.

Banishment Will Not Halt Work, 'Redeemer' Says

New Orleans, November 29.—(AP)—
Although Marcus Garvey, self-styled "Redeemer" of the negro race and head of the Universal Negro Improvement association, is at the Algeirs immigration station awaiting deportation to Kingston, Jamaica, as an undesirable alien, the work of the association will be continued. Garvey said he had been arrested by mistake and that he had been visited here since his arrival here from the Atlanta federal penitentiary Sunday. Garvey's sentence was commuted Saturday to allow his deportation. He was serving a sentence of a year and a day for use of the mails to defraud in connection with a stock selling scheme in the Black Star Line Steamship company.Negroes from all walks of life, from the humblest laborers to professional men, have rallied to Garvey to show their sympathies. He has not them less will not suffer," immigration officers said.

TWO-THIRD'S RULE SATISFIES AL SMITH, AVERS COPELAND

Washington, November 29.—(AP)— Governor Alfred E. Smith, of New York, does not want the two-thirds rule in the democratic national convention changed in his behalf. Senator Copeland, democrat, New York, said today in discussing the presidential political conference.Senator Copeland said that after there had been balloting for the numerous "favorite sons" in the 1928 convention, Governor Smith would come to the aid of the delegates and on succeeding ballots would obtain the necessary votes to bring about his nomination.

The American Habit of Nullifying Laws That Their Conscience Rejects.

It is the habit of the American people to nullify any law of the constitution or the states that they do not approve. They have been doing this with more or less success since the foundation of the republic.Most laws that are rejected by the people are rejected by the courts. The courts have been doing this with more or less success since the foundation of the republic. A law is offered to the people, and the people reject it.

HENRY W. SAVAGE, IMPRESARIO, DIES

Boston, November 29.—(P)—Henry W. Savage, the first producer in this country of the present grand opera in English, died at the Massachusetts General hospital today. His most notable production of opera was Wagner's "Tristan".

Savage was equally successful in his production of light opera, musical comedy and drama. Among the notable musical pieces which he staged were "Merry Widow," first of a long series of Viennese comedies, which found popularity in this country; "The Prince of Hlsen" and other musical comedies by Pixley and others. His present productions included "Madame Butterfly," "Luce Meo," "Every Woman," "The County Chairman" and "The College Widow."

Where Shall the New City Hall Be Located?

All Atlanta, since the bond issue, has been counting on the new City Hall, but you, as a citizen and taxpayer, have not yet had the opportunity of voting on the site. This is your city and you should vote on the matter.

A referendum petition has been filed with the city clerk and each voter is required to sign this petition at the clerk's office in order that he may have a voice in the selection of the new City Hall site.

After 10% of the registered voters of last election have signed this petition, Council will be forced to call a general election allowing the voter to exercise his decision

Be sure to appear at the City Clerk's office in the City Hall and sign the City Hall Referendum Petition before it is too late.

The Woman in the Case

BY LOUIS TRACY

SYNOPSIS

John Arden, returning to his room at the Palace hotel, London, in the early hours of the morning, breaks his key to the lock and is given a room in a luxurious suite by the night watchman who assures him that the rooms are unoccupied. He is about to retire when two women enter the apartment. One is addressed as Esme and the other as Mrs. Sinclair. Arden, sitting, hears them speak of the sudden death of Lord Farndale, without being observed he lets himself out of the apartment. The next morning he reads of the mysterious death of a peer. A little later he sees Esme on the street and is not far from her when she is knocked down by a motorcycle. Her dress is torn and she offers her hand to him. She accepts it and he offers to get her a taxi, telling her that they live in the same hotel; she tells him that she and her aunt have left the Palace, but says she will drop him at the hotel.

Later Arden learns that the police know that Mrs. Sinclair and Esme called on Lord Farndale just before his death and they are trying to locate the two women, watching all railway exits. Arden sees the two women at one of the railroad stations and behind Mrs. Sinclair's back persuades Esme to come away with him in order to avoid arrest. Esme tells Arden she is Lord Farndale's granddaughter.

INSTALLMENT IX.

ANDY CREATES A DIVERSION.

Arden stood stock still. For some inexplicable reason he had never been so surprised in his life. But he had to say something, so he stammered a comment which he hoped would suit a noncommittal.

"By Jove," he said, "that will be a bit of an eye opener for Andy and Davidson."

A sixth sense warned him in time. The words literally on the tip of his tongue were "Scotland Yard," but there was no need to keep on intruding that grim institution, though it must make its presence felt with disagreeable results before many hours had elapsed.

"Let me get this thing correctly," he hurried on. "Are you the daughter of Lord Farndale's only son—the man who has not been heard of for so many years?"

"I am the daughter of William Denison Bernore. My dear father, the most lovable man who ever lived, but one who was looked on as rather eccentric by those who did not know him well, died over a year ago. Since then I have been cared for by Mrs. Sinclair. I have never yet discovered how she got her authority, but she has been kind to me in her way, and, when I left the convent where I was being educated, took me to New York, and, early this year, to Paris. She is not my aunt, but I fell into the position of an adopted niece. It was a convenient fiction in many respects, and I have had no cause to doubt her good intentions until—until—Well, I can hardly go into the complete history of my recent life here, can I?"

Arden apologized, and led the way to the grill room.

"I'm just a plain fool," he muttered. "My feeble excuse is that I hardly know whether I am standing on my head or my heels. . . . Anyhow, here we are. That's our table—over there. The fair-haired lad is Andy, and he has spotted you already. See his eyes growing bigger? Don't take a word he says seriously. All the same, he's one of the best."

Two well-bred young Englishmen might be trusted to put Esme at ease when introduced. Andy said after words that he felt something click inside his brain pan when he heard the lady's name, but he had a well-earned reputation for "saving the situation," and showed his mettle at once by assailing Arden.

"Nice thing you've gone and done," he grumbled. "You rush off at a moment's notice and bring back Miss Bernore to dinner when we've just ordered coffee. Why couldn't you have warned us, and we'd have waited."

"Wait now," said Arden blandly. "You've got to, so make the best of it. The show doesn't start till 8:15, so we have a solid half hour yet, and Miss Bernore and I eat as much as is good for us in that time. Then you two take Miss Bernore to the theater while I hunt up some decent lodgings for her. I don't think she ought to register at a hotel tonight. However, let's look at the menu first. Then we can talk."

The nature of the hotel was rearranging the chairs when a passing waiter tripped and spilled Andy's dinner jacket with a shower of cream and butter. The sufferer rose and peered off his coat, handing it to the horrified headwaiter.

"Get that cleaned as well as you can," he said, calmly resuming his seat at the table. Then he heaved on the others with the broad smile of one who is enjoying himself thoroughly.

"That's quite in order," he explained. "In this affair everybody sheds most of their outer garments when they meet anybody else. Isn't that so, Miss Bernore?"

Despite her troubles Esme laughed and blushed a little.

"Mr. Arden seems to be the only person who contrives to fall in with the general scheme without attracting all eyes," she said.

"In other words, Andy," put in Davidson, "if you had any gray matter, even a fluid, in that silly nut of yours you'd crawl out to the dressing room and get repairs effected in decent solitude."

"That's just where you're wrong, Jimmy," came the retort. "I'm pulling off a stunt never even attempted before. But you a fiver no one has ever yet succeeded in dining here in his shirt sleeves. And the joke is that the staff don't chuck me out, because they know perfectly well that if they do I'll claim a new 10 guinea suit. The people already in the restaurant can't object—they saw what happened—but the real fun will start when some polly stock broker, comes in and spots me. He's sure to say something nasty, and I may have to set about him. The point is that while I hold the center of the stage, so to speak, you three are mere supernumeraries, which is exactly what you want, I imagine."

The incident ended, however, with out the anticipated fight. Andy's coat was restored in a couple of minutes. Meanwhile, two hungry young stars began their meal.

Arden purposely refrained from giving details of events at Victoria. He concentrated rather on the plan he had already evolved, and Esme agreed at first that it was a good one. Davidson was helpful, too.

"There's a bunch of quiet, residential hotels near the British museum," he said. "My mother and sister stayed in one last week. And they have the advantage of being near. At this time of night, it would be silly to go hunting for rooms in Hampstead or Kensington."

"The chief difficulty is the name," mused Arden aloud. "There's no blinking the fact that when Miss Bernore signs the register she may be recognized as the newspaper are full of Lord Farndale's death."

"Mr. Arden is afraid of hurting my feelings," put in Esme with a simple straightforwardness that was far more effective with her listeners than she realized. "He need not be. If he had not found me tonight, I might now be in prison, as I am undoubtedly under suspicion for having been concerned in some way in my grandfather's death. I am grateful for his assistance, but it is evident I ought to face the authorities tomorrow. Indeed, now that the first terror of my position is over, I think I ought to visit—what's the name of the place?—Scotland Yard—yes, that is it—tonight. The office is there are not agree, I suppose? They will listen to reason. They may even take me to wherever Mrs. Sinclair is. I am not afraid of that. I have done nobody any harm, nor did Mrs. Sinclair while I was with her. It is true she quarreled with Lord Farndale, who seemed to regard me as a sort of impostor, though I hardly said a word to him, and certainly made no shadow of a claim on him as a relative. I have been living in a maze during the last few months, and shall be glad when the path of life becomes wider and clearer. I hope I may get enough money to pay my fare back to South America, because I can turn a living at the moment by teaching English and music."

Touglas-McCombs Wedding Plans Are of Wide Social Interest

Cordial interest centers in the announcement of the wedding plans of Miss Alice Mason Douglas and Stewart Williams McCombs. The marriage will be solemnized at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, December 17, at the First Methodist church. The Rev. Samuel T. Senter, pastor, will perform the ceremony in the presence of a representative gathering of Atlanta society.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. T. L. Douglas, soloist, will render a delightful program of nuptial music, including "A Perfect Day" and "All For You." Miss Douglas has chosen for her maid of honor her sister, Miss Ruth Douglas. Mrs. T. P. Wright, another sister, will act as matron of honor. The bridesmaids will be Misses Bertha Douglas, sister of the bride-elect, and Sarah McArthur, and Mesdames J. Walter Bailey and Tramel Trice. The bride-elect will be given in marriage by her father, J. F. Douglas, of Alabama. James E. Dickey, Jr., will be the best man.

Ushers will be Joe McCombs, brother of the groom-elect; J. G. Wilks, S. J. Roberts and Roy Potts. Little Margaret Shilling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Shilling, will be the dainty flower girl. The ring bearer will be little Charles Douglas.

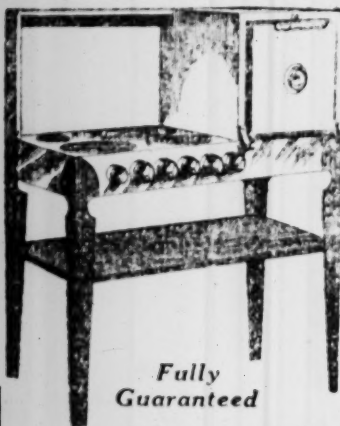

Following the ceremony the young couple will leave for a several weeks' trip to Florida and Cuba. Upon their return they will make their home in Miami.

Mrs. Brown Honors Miss Grace Burks.

Mrs. H. G. Brown entertained Saturday afternoon at her home, 1402 Hartford avenue, honoring Miss Grace Burks, a bride-elect of December, and was assisted in entertaining by her sister, Mrs. Gilbert McDuffie. Miss Eva Hamilton and Mrs. George W. Hooton were winners of the contest. Those invited were Mesdames A. G. McDuffie, J. S. Burks, W. R. Sims, W. A. Callaway, George W. Hooton, G. T. Mitchell, D. C. Harmon, T. Gunkle, Bob Sims, Charles Whitbanks, O. C. Malone, Gilbert McDuffie, Fred Adams, Charles Adams, Dan McDuffie, and Misses Grace Burks, Ruth Phillips, Eloise Chapman, Eda Hamilton, Gladys Carter, Leaborn Pate, Winnie Bryant, Alonzo and Louise Gilbert, Thelma Heard and Jessie Burks.

Reception and Dance Given to Delegates.

An informal reception and dance was given in compliment to the delegates in attendance at the sixth annual convention of the Asphalt Association now in attendance at the Biltmore hotel Tuesday evening in the ballroom of the Biltmore. Special vaudeville numbers were featured on the entertainment program.

Christmas Booklet Is Put on Sale By Garden Club

A unique Christmas gift awaits Atlantans who are looking for something novel and remarkably useful as well as those who are ready to add their endorsement to an enterprising movement of one of the city's most cultural institutions—the Peachtree Garden Club. A neat, attractive volume, "Garden Schedule," containing data on garden preparation throughout the year, specific directions for producing those impeccable bulbs and blossoms which have been so widely admired, notes on seed planting, soils and fertilizers, all contained within a pleasing Christmas folder, is just off the press and ready for the consumption of Atlanta people. The booklet, which reflects credit on the members of the club, which has always proven itself one of the city's inspirations to better floral culture and more beautiful gardens, is entirely different from anything now on the market and contains the nucleus of the information which has been gleaned by this club through years of effort and wide experience.

Among other interesting articles the booklet contains information on the culture of the narcissus, tulip, pansies, iris, which have been produced to such perfection by members of the Peachtree Garden Club; roses, dahlias, for which Atlanta is especially adapted; summer bulbs, together with interesting suggestions for the "fool proof" garden, the product of one who is interested but lazy enough to want to see things prosper and thrive with the minimum of effort.

These remarkable booklets, which would be highly appreciated by any lover of flowers by those who recognize in this club one of Atlanta's assets, as well as by those who have a knack for experimenting in the soil, can be bought for 50 cents. Copies may be obtained by phoning Mrs. Charles Sisson, Hemlock 1139; or Mrs. Robert L. Conney, president of the club, Dearborn 2037.

Miss Nance Weds James Alexander.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Nance announce the marriage of their daughter, Lillian Ruth, to James R. Alexander, Jr. The ceremony was performed in Salt Lake City, Utah, Saturday November 19, by Dr. Rice, a Presbyterian minister of that place. As Mr. Alexander's business will keep him in the west they expect to visit many places of interest.

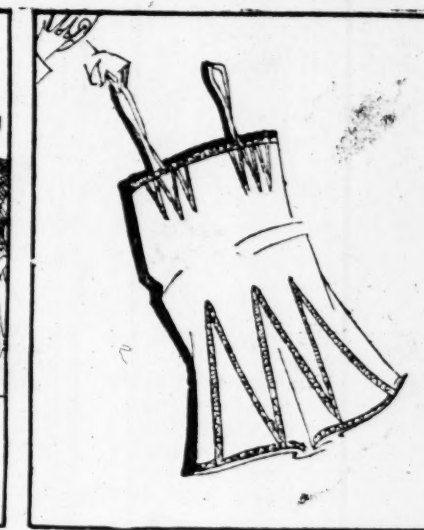

T. E. L. Class Holds Meeting.

T. E. L. Class of the Woodward Avenue Baptist church held a business meeting Friday afternoon and the following members were present: Mesdames Joe Durden, Jaybaker, J. J. Carter, R. L. Corley, C. C. Henderson, R. L. Deardorff, W. Robinson, Terrible, J. H. Still, J. A. Preston, J. H. Brannon, G. W. Coffee, S. L. Wallace, Olive Brock, Hattie Hays, J. S. Hutchinson, H. E. DeLaney, M. M. Haynes, J. I. Chaney, C. C. Hume, S. L. Baird, J. O. Jones, P. Summerford, P. R. Johnson, and Miss M. Wray.

THE CONNOISSEUR

Mr. Van de View in face of an embarrassing disaster. Quite immediately proved himself a diplomatic master. For he hastened to the rescue in a manner unobtrusive. When the accident to ridicule was really more conducive.

The dainty things he gathered up in pink and peach and blue. He handled, never looking—as a gentleman should do—And when he came upon a gauzy garment trimmed in lace. He held it by the ribbon while he hid a blushing face.

And if he caught a glimpse of these, he's really not to blame. For to miss the pair completely would have really been a shame. The fluffy ruffles absent, they are trimmed with tailored bands. And he spies a monogram upon them while they're in his hands.

And gasping with amazement and perplexity as well. Another piece of lingerie ensnares him in its spell—It doesn't have a back at all and he would never guess. It was made that way especially to wear with evening dress.

THE HOUSE IN WHICH LINCOLN DIED
3-4-27
A. GRAHAM LINCOLN 1809-1865 16TH PRESIDENT

STRUCK DOWN IN THE HOUR OF HIS TRIUMPH
BY THE PISTOL SHOT OF AN ASSASSIN, PRESIDENT LINCOLN WAS CARRIED UNCONSCIOUS FROM FORD'S THEATRE, WASHINGTON, WHERE THE FATAL SHOT HAD BEEN FIRED, TO A PRIVATE HOUSE ACROSS THE STREET. DOCTORS WERE SUMMONED, BUT HIS LIFE WAS FAST EBBIING.

THE DEATH OF LINCOLN
DIED EARLY IN THE MORNING OF APRIL 15, 1865. HE DIED. LINCOLN'S DEATH WAS A SEVERE BLOW TO THE NATION. THE NORTH LOST THE GREAT PILOT WHO HAD GUIDED THE SHIP OF STATE SAFELY THROUGH THE STORM OF CIVIL STRIFE. THE SOUTH LOST THE ONE MAN WHO WAS WILLING AND ABLE TO RESTRAIN HER POLITICAL FOES IN THE NORTH.

THE SAME NIGHT THAT LINCOLN WAS SLAIN, SECRETARY OF STATE SEWARD WAS STABBED, BUT RECOVERED. THE CONSPIRATORS WERE ROUNDED UP, AND FOUR OF THEM, ONE A WOMAN (MRS. SURRETT, WHO MAY HAVE BEEN INNOCENT), WERE HANGED. SEVERAL OTHERS WERE SENTENCED TO IMPRISONMENT.
TOMORROW—LINCOLN'S GREATNESS.

ALL SAINTS' GUILD To Hold Bazar Next Wednesday
The woman's guild of All Saints' Episcopal church plans the annual all-day bazar, Wednesday, December 7, in Eggleston Memorial hall. Those desiring table delicacies can lay in a supply of pickles and preserves made by many of Atlanta's most prominent hostesses.

Condiments from recipes of Mrs. W. H. Kiser, Mrs. Robert C. Alston, Mrs. H. M. Atkinson, Mrs. Louis Gholston, Mrs. Loretta Arnold, Mrs. Jesse Draper and many others famed for delectable edibles. Mrs. Thomas Erwin's cakes and cookies are in constant demand, as are Mrs. Eugene Speer's Westmoreland's homemade cakes and candies, and the Atlanta housekeeper can find many tempting things for home consumption.

Many Christmas problems can be solved here, as there are bags and useful articles for traveling, baby caps, scrapbooks for children, aprons, dolls and handkerchiefs in the list of pretty articles.

Concert To Be Given in College Park.
A musical concert will be given Thursday evening, December 8, at 8 o'clock at the College Park city auditorium, featuring the Stansell quartet, under the auspices of the College Park Klan. The Stansell quartet will be remembered by those who witnessed the Klan minstrel several weeks ago in College Park, which was staged before a record-breaking crowd on two occasions and in which the Stansell quartet played a leading role. The Stansell quartet is composed of W. J. Stansell, first tenor; W. J. Caldwell, second tenor; S. J. Cofer, baritone; W. L. Dickinson, bass, and Mrs. H. S. Fling, pianist. In addition to quartet numbers there will be featured violin solos by Jack Thompson and a vocal solo by S. J. Dodson and solos by members of the quartet.

The program will be varied and will include popular and classical music. This concert will be for charitable purposes and all lovers of good songs and music are requested to be present. Admission will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

Peebles School To Observe Arbor Day.
Miss Ruby Jones, principal, and Mrs. J. Q. Hooper, president, will preside jointly at an attractive Arbor day program to be given at the Peebles school Friday, December 2, at 12 o'clock. It is hoped that a large attendance of members and friends of the school will be present. The program is arranged by the faculty and members is as follows: Introduction, Dick Wiggins, of high 5; Arbor day song, No. 1, by high 5; "A Tree," without Foster, of high 5; "Our School Yard Trees," by a group of high 6 children, namely: John Cowden, Edwin Gambrell, Joe Rudy, Zach Layfield, and Margaret Pershall; "The Tree," a dramatic presentation, by a group of high 6 children, namely: Louise Burton, Frances Lindsley, Dorothy Coraux and Lester Wilson; "The Heart of a Tree," by Mrs. Morris, de McCollum and James Vansant of low 1; "We Love the Trees" by Douglas Stone, of high 5; "Planting the Tree" by Ann Youngblood, of low 1; "Planting the Tree" by P. T. A.; Arbor day song, No. 2, by low 6.

Foreign Stylist Says Milady's Individuality Dictates Fashion

BY ANNIE LOU HARDY.
Milady's individuality, and not the Champs Elysee or Fifth avenue, will dictate the trend of fashion in the future, according to Mrs. Aileen Rice, foreign stylist and said to be one of the foremost authorities of fashion, affiliated with R. H. Macy Co., of New York, who is in the city to give expert advice to the personnel of Davidson-Paxon company.

Both short and long skirts will be worn, but in each case they will express the personality of the wearer, and the well-dressed woman will select what is most becoming to her, said Mrs. Rice. No longer will women revert to types and strive to look just like every other woman in the crowd, but the question resolves itself into what one wants to wear rather than just "what is stylish."

"And while we strive to express the inner urge in our outward appearance, those atavistic tendencies toward femininity assert themselves, for woman is essentially feminine," continued Mrs. Rice. Simplicity will remain as the keynote of daytime fashions, reserving the elaborate modes for evening.

Sports clothes are decidedly the costume of the moment and they are being worn in popular each day. "For instance, I select a dress of this type because it serves for all day," said Mrs. Rice, glancing down at her stuncheon, which is a combination of weight wool knitted in the softest shades of beige and woods brown. Her simple becoming hat of beige velvet, shading her starry blue eyes, her walking shoes and smart bag of brown suede and her silk scarf blending all the tones from orange to brown were charming notes which breathed of Paris and conviction of the eternal fitness of things in regard to Mrs. Rice as style adviser.

Achieving Style.
Good taste is not commensurate with price as so many people think, according to this connoisseur of fashion. "Immediately when one begins to speak of taste expressed in a thing the general public visualizes a rise in price. This is not the case," explained Mrs. Rice who further stressed the fact that style and taste are founded in things of a low price as well as in the more expensive lines. "And that's what I am here for—to instruct the buyers of Davidson-Paxon company in the art of selection, for the proper position of the buyer in weeding out of his stock those things expressing poor form."

Excellent Qualifications.
Possessing a background of aristocracy and culture and schooled by the advantages of affluence and wide travel, Mrs. Rice is admirably fitted for the position of style adviser in the group of twenty-two stylists employed by the R. H. Macy company. From her French mother she inherits a flair for the art of selection, and a deep appreciation of the beautiful. From her long years of residing in the French capital she has developed an innate gift of discernment and she indulges in rare fastidiousness, born of her extraordinary social contacts.

And underlying these qualifications is that practicality which assumes the proper position of a good sense. "Modishness is now based on reason," concluded Mrs. Rice, "and the answer is invariably comfort—another assurance that style can be found in hand with intelligence with the twentieth century woman."

DIET AND HEALTH
BY LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.
GOAT'S MILK.
I didn't realize until I got a letter from a goat farm owner that an article I wrote on goat's milk recently gave the impression that I was not favorable to its use for babies.

I wrote that goat's milk had to be modified for babies just as did cow's milk and that it was no more nutritious than cow's milk, and while it was thought by some to be more digestible than cow's milk on account of its finer grain, some pediatricians (children specialists) did not consider it so. Another point I mentioned was that it has been found occasionally that babies fed on goat's milk had added that they were not doing well on cow's milk do sometimes improve on goat's milk. It may be due to the fact that they may have some sensitiveness to cow's milk.

If you can get a good grade of cow's milk and are sure of its purity and it agrees with the baby, there is no reason why you should pay extra for goat's milk, but if you can get good clean goat's milk and can't get cow's milk, or if it is more convenient, I would advise you to do so. As I told you in the previous article, goats are not subject to tuberculosis, so you wouldn't have to worry about that; you also couldn't have any worry about pasteurized or certified cow's milk.

Goat's milk is used a good deal in eastern countries for children. Sometimes they suckle the goat. Of course, it is highly important that the animals are kept very clean, both for the purity of its milk and its taste. According to the authorities I have read, goat's milk does not keep so well as cow's milk, so should be used as soon after milking as possible, unless it is put immediately on the ice.

Goats can be raised and cared for with slight expense compared to that of the cow, and goats are remarkably good milkers. Small families in the country should be encouraged to keep a goat for their own use.

(We have a list of modern books on child feeding which you may have by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope with request.)

Fruits and Starches.
You no doubt have heard many times that you mustn't eat the so-called acid fruits and starches at the same meal because the alkalinity of the saliva, and therefore its digestive power on the starches, is lessened. Recent research work on the saliva shows that probably the saliva is always weakly acid, owing to the carbonic acid it contains, and it becomes alkaline only after the carbon dioxide, both by frequent washings and visits to the dentist, are kept up.

The use of sweet and starchy desserts at the end of a meal is a bad habit, and if they are needed for enjoyment and nutrition (in the underweight and normal) they should be followed by some fresh fruit, or taken earlier in the meal.

The Death of Lincoln

THE HOUSE IN WHICH LINCOLN DIED
3-4-27
A. GRAHAM LINCOLN 1809-1865 16TH PRESIDENT

STRUCK DOWN IN THE HOUR OF HIS TRIUMPH
BY THE PISTOL SHOT OF AN ASSASSIN, PRESIDENT LINCOLN WAS CARRIED UNCONSCIOUS FROM FORD'S THEATRE, WASHINGTON, WHERE THE FATAL SHOT HAD BEEN FIRED, TO A PRIVATE HOUSE ACROSS THE STREET. DOCTORS WERE SUMMONED, BUT HIS LIFE WAS FAST EBBIING.

THE DEATH OF LINCOLN
DIED EARLY IN THE MORNING OF APRIL 15, 1865. HE DIED. LINCOLN'S DEATH WAS A SEVERE BLOW TO THE NATION. THE NORTH LOST THE GREAT PILOT WHO HAD GUIDED THE SHIP OF STATE SAFELY THROUGH THE STORM OF CIVIL STRIFE. THE SOUTH LOST THE ONE MAN WHO WAS WILLING AND ABLE TO RESTRAIN HER POLITICAL FOES IN THE NORTH.

THE SAME NIGHT THAT LINCOLN WAS SLAIN, SECRETARY OF STATE SEWARD WAS STABBED, BUT RECOVERED. THE CONSPIRATORS WERE ROUNDED UP, AND FOUR OF THEM, ONE A WOMAN (MRS. SURRETT, WHO MAY HAVE BEEN INNOCENT), WERE HANGED. SEVERAL OTHERS WERE SENTENCED TO IMPRISONMENT.
TOMORROW—LINCOLN'S GREATNESS.

ALL SAINTS' GUILD To Hold Bazar Next Wednesday
The woman's guild of All Saints' Episcopal church plans the annual all-day bazar, Wednesday, December 7, in Eggleston Memorial hall. Those desiring table delicacies can lay in a supply of pickles and preserves made by many of Atlanta's most prominent hostesses.

Condiments from recipes of Mrs. W. H. Kiser, Mrs. Robert C. Alston, Mrs. H. M. Atkinson, Mrs. Louis Gholston, Mrs. Loretta Arnold, Mrs. Jesse Draper and many others famed for delectable edibles. Mrs. Thomas Erwin's cakes and cookies are in constant demand, as are Mrs. Eugene Speer's Westmoreland's homemade cakes and candies, and the Atlanta housekeeper can find many tempting things for home consumption.

Many Christmas problems can be solved here, as there are bags and useful articles for traveling, baby caps, scrapbooks for children, aprons, dolls and handkerchiefs in the list of pretty articles.

Concert To Be Given in College Park.
A musical concert will be given Thursday evening, December 8, at 8 o'clock at the College Park city auditorium, featuring the Stansell quartet, under the auspices of the College Park Klan. The Stansell quartet will be remembered by those who witnessed the Klan minstrel several weeks ago in College Park, which was staged before a record-breaking crowd on two occasions and in which the Stansell quartet played a leading role. The Stansell quartet is composed of W. J. Stansell, first tenor; W. J. Caldwell, second tenor; S. J. Cofer, baritone; W. L. Dickinson, bass, and Mrs. H. S. Fling, pianist. In addition to quartet numbers there will be featured violin solos by Jack Thompson and a vocal solo by S. J. Dodson and solos by members of the quartet.

The program will be varied and will include popular and classical music. This concert will be for charitable purposes and all lovers of good songs and music are requested to be present. Admission will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

Peebles School To Observe Arbor Day.
Miss Ruby Jones, principal, and Mrs. J. Q. Hooper, president, will preside jointly at an attractive Arbor day program to be given at the Peebles school Friday, December 2, at 12 o'clock. It is hoped that a large attendance of members and friends of the school will be present. The program is arranged by the faculty and members is as follows: Introduction, Dick Wiggins, of high 5; Arbor day song, No. 1, by high 5; "A Tree," without Foster, of high 5; "Our School Yard Trees," by a group of high 6 children, namely: John Cowden, Edwin Gambrell, Joe Rudy, Zach Layfield, and Margaret Pershall; "The Tree," a dramatic presentation, by a group of high 6 children, namely: Louise Burton, Frances Lindsley, Dorothy Coraux and Lester Wilson; "The Heart of a Tree," by Mrs. Morris, de McCollum and James Vansant of low 1; "We Love the Trees" by Douglas Stone, of high 5; "Planting the Tree" by Ann Youngblood, of low 1; "Planting the Tree" by P. T. A.; Arbor day song, No. 2, by low 6.

Tech Alumni Return to City For Ga.-Tech Tilt

Georgia Tech's Gold and White will be the order of the day for the many homecoming who will be in Atlanta Saturday for the Tech-Georgia game and its attendant social activities.

More interest and loyalty has been shown this year than ever before. Alumni with their families and friends are returning to Atlanta from all over the country to support Tech's great team and to attend the numerous banquets, dances and other social affairs.

The largest reunion in the history of the institution will be held by the class of 1907 Friday evening, December 2, at the Atlanta Athletic club when practically every graduate and a large number of the registrants will be present to start the good fellowship fest together. G. M. Stout, Tech '07, of Blackburn and Stout, is directing the 1907 class reunion.

The homecoming luncheon at noon Saturday at the Biltmore hotel will bring together all of the classes with their families and friends. The Yellow Jacket orchestra will render songs and music dear to the hearts of the Tech supporters. Colors and gold and white candles will be provided for all the homecoming at the homecoming luncheon. Pennants and autumn's gold and white flowers will provide the general decorative scheme. The luncheon will be held at 11 o'clock, giving everyone ample time to get to the game at Grant field, which begins at 2 o'clock.

The fraternities and clubs at Georgia Tech are holding "open houses" for the home-coming, whose festivities will be prolonged into the night with the dances at the Biltmore, Driving club, Capital City, Athletic and other clubs and hotels.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright To Entertain at Bridge.
Mr. and Mrs. George Wright will entertain at bridge Thursday evening at their home on Wilton drive in Decatur.

The guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ingram, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Sutton, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Trotti, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hipp, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Risley, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Shoof, W. F. Haygood and Fletcher Pearson.

Miss Hunter Honors Mrs. Claude McGinnis, Jr.
Miss Ethel Hunter was hostess at an informal bride-tee Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at her home on Eleventh street in compliment to Mrs. Claude McGinnis, Jr. formerly Miss Rebecca Ascheroff, whose marriage was recently solemnized. Mrs. Ross Hunter assisted her daughter in entertaining. The guests included a few friends of the honor guests.

I Have Said in My Heart

BY IDAH MCGLONE GIBSON. DEMANDER
From where I sit I get a very clear viewpoint on the modern young man. Many of them have become so used to me that they regard me not as a woman of age and more or less dignity, but one of themselves. Indeed, when two or three of them enter into a discussion it almost seems at times that they forget that I am there. I might just as well be the handmaid that is resting on the table between them, or any part of the furniture which adds to their content.

The other night at a dinner where all the men seemed to me only "boys grown a little taller" and I was the only woman present, I got a most peculiar slant on the modern man's reaction to the women he meets.

These boys were talking of an absent friend who had just broken off his engagement with a young woman they all knew. "I don't blame him a bit," said one of them. "I've never in all my life known such a 'demander'."

"May I ask what is a demander?" I broke in, in my most casual voice, for I rarely interrupt these boys' conversation, as it seems to make them very conscious of themselves and consequently reticent. I could not resist asking a definition of the unfamiliar word.

"Why, you know, Mrs. Gibson," spoke another boy, "a demander is a girl who demands your compliments, your petting, your time, your money, yourself. She demands that 'thou shalt have no other girls before me.'"

"She's the girl who telephones to you two or three times a day and gets the boss down on you."

"She demands that you shall call upon her in and out of season. She invites you to take her to parties and she expects that you will come in a taxi or your mother's limousine and send flowers and bon-bons."

"She has you at her chariot wheel and tells all the world that you are hers to dispose of as she pleases. In fact, she makes you fairly hate her."

"That's right," said another one of the boys. "I would like to tell her something that is absolutely true of all men from the plumber to the prince, young or old. A man always wants to give. He never wants to be held up."

"The sooner a girl learns this or the sooner, at least, she learns to make her demands so adroitly that we poor fish swallow the bait, hook and line, the sooner will she become popular among the men of her acquaintance. The frankness in which the girls today voice their demands gets my goat."

Memo: A girl must either be modest or adroit. Take your choice, but whatever you are, do not be a "demander."

Riverside Cadets Down Tech High Team by 12-to-6 Score

Smithies Lead Great Backs Visitors, 6-to-0 Will Battle In First Half Here Friday

Butler, Riverside Backfield Ace, Makes Brilliant Runs.

BY WHITNER CARY.

For two quarters of the Riverside Tech High game Tuesday afternoon, Billy Butler, of the Cadet team, was a comparatively tame young man. Then in the third quarter he became a galloping fool. Twice he ran into punts 65 yards for touchdowns and on another occasion he centered this same distance to get within five yards of the promised land. These two touchdowns by this brilliant halfback accounted for Riverside's 12 points and a well earned 12-to-6 victory over Tech High at Spiller's.

For the first two quarters it looked very much as if one of those gliding upsets that have such a sinister habit of creeping into the gridiron season was about to take place, as Tech High, which went into the game very much the under dog, had held the Cadets scoreless while a neatly executed pass of 25 yards in the second quarter, Matt to Johnson, and given the home team a lead of six precious points. From the way the two teams were battling in that opening half these six points looked as big as a mountain.

Then came the third quarter when Mr. Butler entered the picture. Shortly after the start of hostilities in this quarter Mr. Butler caught a Tech High punt on his own 35-yard line and to the dismay of the Tech team and the Tech supporters started on a wild run that did not halt until he was safely past the final chalk mark. Just to show that his feet were not tingling out of the ordinary, this same Mr. Butler a few minutes later caught another punt on his 20-yard line and pulled off another gallop that was not stopped until he was on Tech's forward line. The Tech High line held at this point and the ball went over. But Mr. Butler was far from tamed. Just a slight breathing spell and he caught a Tech High punt on his 25-yard line. This time no barrier could stop him and he again centered 65 yards for a touchdown.

Tech High fighting gamely came right back after these mad gallops by Butler and by blocking a punt got possession of the ball on Riverside's nine yard line. Three plunges through the line took the ball to the one-foot mark. The Riverside line starting at a Tech High touchdown here stopped and the next thrust was stopped.

Both teams played exceedingly hard. There was little to choose between them. The play of the two elevens.

Ruster Mott and Johnson were the outstanding offensive stars for Tech High while the work of Williams and Vess contributed much to the defense. Butler, Stoner and Freeman were on the offense for Riverside while Moss' defensive play was especially good.

A. U. Eleven Working Hard for Title Game With Tuskegee.

With the southern colored football championship at stake between the south's two greatest elevens, Atlanta University and Tuskegee institute will battle it out on the gridiron Friday afternoon on Spiller field at 2 o'clock.

Not only will the southern title be at stake but Atlanta will see in action two of the best colored backfields witnessed on the gridiron. For the last three years Tuskegee has reigned over the entire south. It has defeated every colored team from coast to coast and has won 48 straight games. The Tuskegee boys have made an untouchable record and just what will happen when these two noted colored elevens meet Friday remains to be seen.

Hard Scrimmage Held.
One of the hardest scrimmages of the season was held on Atlanta University's campus Tuesday afternoon, with the reserves using Tuskegee's formations. The noted backfield of the Crimson Hurricane ran wild through the reserves and scored two touchdowns. The terrific line plunging of M'Pherson was the feature of the workout. Whether the quarterback and one of the best field generals in the conference was running the plays smoothly. The line was charging fast and low. The blocking and tackling was perfect and it will be hard to hold.

Another scrimmage is booked for today to be followed by a light signal drill Thursday afternoon. During the last few days Coach Aiken and his assistants, "Whirlwind" Johnson and Gunn, have been working hard with the line and are pleased with the way it charged in Tuesday's scrimmage, as they realized that it will take a strong forward wall to hold the "Mighty" Aiken, backfield men of the Tigers. A dance will be given Thursday and Friday night on the roof garden and the two teams will be guests of honor. Tickets for the game can be purchased at Chess Place, Amos Drug store, Aiken & Faulkner real estate company, Milton & Yates pharmacy, Atlanta Athletic club, Herndon barber shop and Atlanta University.

STAR MAJOR LEAGUE TEAM ANNOUNCED

St. Louis, November 29. (AP)—A 1927 all star major league team, based on the votes of 168 members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America, was announced today by the Sporting News, National baseball newspaper published here.

One of the most interesting contests was for second base. Rogers Hornsby, of the Giants, nosed out Frankie Frisch, of the Cardinals, for whom he was traded a year ago, by a 100 to 90 vote.

SATURDAY'S WINNER GETS THIS CUP

The cup shown in this picture, a representation of Muse's window advertising the Tech-Georgia game, is the trophy offered by The Constitution in 1925 to the team winning two out of the next three games. Tech won in 1925 and Georgia in 1926. Now, with the southern football title at stake, these two teams will meet next Saturday for permanent possession of the trophy before a record crowd for southern football. It is expected that 37,000 people will see the game, the last of the season for both teams.

DOORS CLOSED ON BIG LOOPS BY AMERICAN

Chicago, November 29. (AP)—The American association is going to close the door to major league ownership of its clubs.

President Thomas J. Hickey said tonight the club owners were unanimous in this decision and legislation barring the American or National league clubs from owning or controlling franchises in the American association would be adopted at the meeting to be held in Dallas, Texas, Saturday.

"The major-leaguers are fast getting hold of minor league clubs, using them as farms," President Hickey said. "Their interests conflict with ours. We have reached the conclusion that we do not want them."

The Columbus club is the only team in the association at present owned by major league interests. It is controlled by the Cincinnati club of the National league.

Adoption of a schedule for the 1928 season will come up at the Dallas session, with prospects that the usual 68 games will be played next year. President Hickey has three drafts of dates to submit. All offer a schedule of 168 games with the western clubs opening in the west and the eastern clubs in the eastern end of the circuit.

The club owners will assemble here Friday, leaving for the south on a special train along with other baseball leaders going to Dallas to attend the meeting of the National association of minor leagues, opening there next week.

Maybe So.
Columbia university students burned down the stands at their football field. Probably some because their team did not burn up the opposition.

Lewis and McDougal Win at Auditorium

Anglin, Local Grappler, Also Wins Wrestling Match on Exciting Card Here.

Whatever aspirations Wayne (Big) Munn may have entertained on pinning the rather bulky shoulders of one Ed (Strangler) Lewis to the mat at the auditorium Tuesday night received a severe shock when the old Strangler came through with two vicious head locks and proceeded to win a brace of falls from the former Nebraska university football star.

For 49 minutes and 56 seconds Mr. Lewis endeavored with apparent diligence to get his famous headlocks on the former all-American tackle. During this period the said Mr. Lewis was displaying the same amount of diligence in trying to avoid the clutch hold made famous by Mr. Munn several years ago when he used it as a means of transporting the bulky form of Mr. Lewis clear out of the ring and into the space rented by the cash customers.

Maybe it was the memory of the rather hard job which he received through this hold on a former schoolmate that made Mr. Lewis show wholesome respect for it. At any rate, whenever the young giant who was opposed to him appeared to be attempting this particular hold Mr. Lewis showed a sensitiveness and timidity which was most eloquent. Mr. Lewis when pressed hard on this attempted hold would seek the protection of the ropes. These latter defensive tactics on the part of Mr. Lewis seemed not to be appreciated by the fair sized crowd on hand and on several occasions the cash customers expressed their feelings in no uncertain way.

Big Munn, who looks far more like a tackle than a wrestler, put up a good exhibition, but when it came to the science of the game he fell far below his elderly opponent. His main idea seemed to be centered on getting his famous clutch hold on Lewis. When that failed him he had little else in trade.

After many vain attempts to get his devastating headlock fortune snuffed on Mr. Lewis at the end of 49 minutes and 56 seconds a stick-like clamp had been applied, the 10-minute rest period had been reached. Having applied the clamps once, Mr. Lewis had far less difficulty in the second act. It took but 11 minutes and 38 seconds to complete the job which ended the match.

The Prelims.
Two preliminaries ushered in the main bout. The first saw H. E. Anglin take one fall in 20 minutes and 21 seconds from Tom Fellers. Thanks to a kind boxing commission which decided that neither were in condition for pinning, Washington's shoulders to the mat with a body hold after 39 minutes and 34 seconds of some lively mixing.

The second preliminary resulted in

DRURY THINKS SCORE SHOULD HAVE BEEN 8-7

Los Angeles, November 29.—A southern California football captain for the second time in as many years has arrived in an extremely unhappy mood.

Drury's reaction to the sensation of his opponent was of practically no use to him as the aggressive Mr. Boorde was always somewhere else when Casey swung. Jones was willing to mix it any time and showed plenty of guile when Freddie was willing to stand and trade blows.

In the other 10-round affair Benny Regan, popular little Atlanta ringman, and Chick White, of Miami, resumed where they left off last week; and were fighting furiously in the third when Benny suddenly dropped his opponent with his smooth left body.

When White's second jumped into the ring protesting the punch referee Budd disqualified White and declared Regan the winner. White's protest was a 4-rounder between Wood Pace and Jack Crowley, both local boys, opened the show and was declared a draw.

At a corresponding time last season the then captain, Jeff Cavath, prominently mentioned for all-American center, came into a similarly awkward situation by relating at a meeting of a high school team that "some coaches gave players drugs to keep up their morale and stamina."

Drury's reaction to the sensation of his opponent was of practically no use to him as the aggressive Mr. Boorde was always somewhere else when Casey swung. Jones was willing to mix it any time and showed plenty of guile when Freddie was willing to stand and trade blows.

Drury's statement came when he was called to the platform during the Trojan reception to the team that lost to Notre Dame last Saturday by a 7-6 score.

"After all is said and done," the elusive halfback declared, "we feel we travelled a long distance to be robbed of a victory."

"Fellow students," he stated, "we left here last week for Chicago after explaining we expected to trim Notre Dame. We stand here now, defeated. All of us feel extremely bad about it, but we know by this meeting that you are with us and that will help against Washington Saturday."

"Drury," as he is known, offered the explanation that he was misinformed by his speech followed by retract any of his speech.

"I'm not a public speaker," he said, "and I don't want to say any more about it. If I tell you what I said and what I meant it would get me into trouble maybe and it looks like I'm in plenty now."

Drury's original remark was obviously pointed at a decision handed down by Empire John Schommer, in which the ball was given to Notre Dame on its own 20-yard line when southern California players felt they should have been given a safety. The safety would have returned the Trojans an 8-7 victory.

Sullivan Wins Stage Is Set For Georgia Field Trials

Fred Boorde Beats Casey Jones in Bout at Ring-side Tuesday Night.

BY JIMMIE MILNER.

The new Ringside club at Broad and Mitchell streets took another step forward toward reestablishing boxing on a paying basis in Atlanta Tuesday night, when at its second card of the season an all-star program consisting of three 10-round scraps and one 4-round preliminary affair.

The main bout, which brought together Tommy O'Rourke, Atlanta mid-deweight, and Dixie Sullivan, of Birmingham, provided the cash customers with plenty of excitement from start to finish. Both boys started swapping punches with the bell in the first round and never let up until time was called at the end of the tenth when Sullivan was awarded the decision.

Sullivan's left hook gave his opponent plenty to worry about as he constantly kept Sullivan's face. The outcome was always in doubt as both carried dynamite in either hand. In the third O'Rourke staggered Sullivan with a stiff right to the chin that seemed to cause Dixie to think about. From this point, however, Sullivan took every round with the exception of the seventh when O'Rourke found his mark with long left jabs followed by stiff rights to the kidney.

Freddie Boorde, veteran of many hard ring encounters, mugged all his knowledge and tricks to keep off Casey Jones and take the decision at the end of 10 rounds. Jones' superior boxing power was of practically no use to him as the aggressive Mr. Boorde was always somewhere else when Casey swung. Jones was willing to mix it any time and showed plenty of guile when Freddie was willing to stand and trade blows.

1927 Meeting Promises To Be Greatest; New Trophies Offered.

BY DICK HAWKINS.

Word comes from Waynesboro that the proverbial stage is all set for the 1927 net of the Georgia field trial serial play.

Which means to the initiated that there will be a very "large week" for the dog lovers next week. Until you have chased those chimes around the course and watched them stand a covey of birds in a clump of bush; until you have seen those dogs stand like stone while a handler fires his pistol over them as the birds rise and thrum away; until you have climbed stiff-legged from a horse and sat at one of Sim Bell's barbecue dinners; until you have tasted spring life as it can be only at the field trials.

The trials at Waynesboro have never been a failure. In fact, from the very first year they have gained a reputation the country over but each year they have been improving and this year, with more dogs entered and a larger gallery than ever expected, the trials should set a new mark for success.

New Trophies Offered.
To add to the cash prizes in the all-age and the derby events there are a number of new trophies offered for the members events. Chief among these is the magnificent trophy donated by the city of Waynesboro and named for Sim Bell, president of the association, which will be given to the owner of the winning dog in the members all-age. This trophy will go permanently to the winner taking it three years. The cup is more than two feet tall and is of solid silver, beautifully embossed and will be engraved with the name of the winner each year until it becomes the permanent possession of some owner who is fortunate enough to enter a winner three years in succession.

Every year the citizens of Waynesboro vie valiantly to outdo their hostpitality of the year before and in line with these efforts they have planned a program of entertainment for next year that will make such events as the Mardi Gras seem very tame in comparison.

On Monday Sim Bell will give his number of new trophies to the members guests out at the course and on Tuesday night the Exchange and Rotary clubs will give a banquet and dance for the multitude.

Yellow Jackets in Bad Shape for Fracas, Says Bjorkman

Pass Defense Is Main Dish On Tech Menu

Scrubs Give Varsity Good Lesson in Stopping Aerial Attack.

BY BEN COTHREN.

Tech's Yellow Jackets, part of the cause of the disturbance which will take place Saturday afternoon at Grant field, spent an afternoon of study and discussion at the Flats Tuesday as the second day of the final week of practice for the game with these national title-contending Bulldogs passed.

The Jackets, so popular guests had it, were to waste away the afternoon in a scrimmage of rather tough proportions. However, the house guests went on that one and three varsity squads lined up at various times against a gang of scrubs, clad in red jerseys, while these latter threw one Georgia pass after another, occasionally snatching the ball off the scrubs and around an end from a very deceptive formation.

The Georgia passes as presented by the scrubs, were fairly good. Tech supporters to watch. Because when one of them is completed, the receiver has one good chance to get away. The varsity men managed to break up a number of them. Others fell far, because the ball wasn't in the hands of a capable passer.

Stumpy Thomason was present and taking a slight part in the drama. He is injured, but he will probably start the game against Georgia. If not, Bo Road will take his place. For it is almost a certainty that Bo Road won't be in the game at any time.

When it comes to the punting, Parham will be needed, very much so. You'll probably remember that he was the perpetrator of a 102 yard punt in last year's affair with the Bulldogs. He hasn't done any punting like that this year, but his punts have been very good and will be missed. Mizell has improved with his boots, however, and it is certain that he will be ready for play Saturday.

After what one would take to be the starting combination against Georgia with one or two exceptions—consisting of Crowley and Wadley at ends, Thrash and Speer, tackles; Martin and Freeman, Westbrooks, in Martin's place Tuesday; guards; Pund, center; Durant, quarter; Mizell and Reed, halves; and Randolph, full finished against the scrubs, running signals took place until well after dark.

No Scrimmage in Sight.

Today and tomorrow will see more of these dummy scrimmages, if indications mean anything. Regular scrimmage, it seems, will be withheld until combat begins Saturday afternoon.

There'll be plenty of work for the Jackets in the three days that are left. The Jackets will be well prepared for the "Red Devils" from Athens.

Nurmi Abandons U. S. Tour Plans

Berlin, November 29.—(AP)—United News.—Paavo Nurmi, Finnish distance runner, passing through here today en route to Amsterdam, said he had abandoned plans to visit the United States because Finnish track authorities feared Americans might try to stamp him as a professional athlete.

A Tribute.

What greater tribute could be paid to a man than this—that he met the best and worst that life could offer with a laugh—a laugh that endeared him to thousands of friends and went with him to a premature death.

Seven years ago Cliff Wheatley came to edit the sport pages of The Constitution and his "Viewing the News" reflected as jovial, as witty and withal as profound a nature as any writer ever had. Within the confines of his own profession he was loved and admired and the public learned to love his wholesome humor and philosophy.

The news of Cliff Wheatley's death brings sorrow and a feeling of keen loss to his friends. We take the liberty of speaking for those friends through these columns in extending to his family sincere condolences.

The Coach's Big Job.

Whether we are looking forward to such a football game as will be seen when Tech and Georgia tangle next Saturday for The Constitution trophy and the championship of Dixie, or whether we look back on that game, we are inclined to focus our gaze on the game itself.

We pick our heroes from their performance in the game and we throw our verbal bricks at the unfortunate whose mistakes cost touchdowns for the opposition. But in getting this perspective we sometimes forget that the game itself is really THE SOFT SPOT FOR THE PLAYERS.

Did you ever go through a week of preparation for such a game after all other games of the season were over and nothing was in sight but that battle? And you ever lie awake at night looking at the wall of blackness, planning and replanning your campaign, with every mental picture forcing its way from consciousness into dreams so that you awoke perspiring with the boos of the mob in your ears?

Have you ever caught yourself snapping like a mad dog at your friends when they happened to cross you and then awake to the realization that your nerves are a bundle of high-tension wires?

If you happen to be in a position to mingle with the members of the two teams who meet for the championship of Dixie Saturday, it will be worth your time to make a study of their mental reactions. You will find a gang of athletes in the very throes of mental anguish. They will cover that feeling well and each day's practice furnishes an outlet for some of the nervous energy, but still those nerves continue to fray at the edges until they reach the bursting point just before the game. And then comes the crisis, and almost invariably the man who is most nervous before the game is the most stolid in the game. He may crack wide open after the contest but if he has reached the right pitch his nervousness will serve as an inspiration in the real contest.

It is the coach's job to get his men just to the right pitch. Probably the most important job he has. It is interesting to watch his methods.

Dixie Officials Organize.

At last a definite step is being taken toward the organization of football officials in Dixie and, judging from the tentative by-laws of the organization, the move will mean much to southern sports.

The first meeting of the organization will be held at Lexington on the 8th of next month, and at that time the organization will take definite shape.

The plan now is to make every official coming into the organization have his application approved by two directors of the organization and by two coaches of the conference.

If the present plans of the organization are carried out there should be a decided movement toward better understanding among the officials, coaches and public which is bound to bring more efficient officiating.

Horses Are Shipped To Havana Track

Bowie, Md., November 29.—(AP)—A special train of 10 cars was scheduled to leave today carrying horses en route to Havana, Cuba. Twenty-eight owners planned to send thoroughbreds, making the shipment one of the largest ever to leave this state for a winter trip.

Race track officials said that talk of possible difficulties over betting at the proposed winter season at Miami, Fla., was one of the causes of the increased popularity of Cuba.

Swimming Record Falls.

Johnny Weismuller's record for the 200-meter free style has been broken by Anne Borg, Swedish paddler swimming under the colors of the I. A. C. Borg claims a time of 3 minutes and 23 seconds, two and one-fifth seconds better than Johnny's mark.

Three Jackets Probably Out Of Big Game

Thomason, Parham and Holland May Not Start Against Georgia.

BY "HANK" BJORKMAN.

For the past three weeks I've been reading the accounts of the Georgia team in detailed form against difficult opponents. Some called it the "Dream and Wonder" team, others the "Black Battalion of Death," and a team with a "Thousand Backs." I more or less overlooked these phrases, concluding that they made reading more interesting. But the chance to convince myself one way or another came when I went to Birmingham last Thursday to watch them play against Alabama. What shall I say next? Watching as smooth a machine as I have ever seen, ripping and tearing up and down the field in a battle that crushed a team that fought to the end.

Every man played his position and it would be unfair to compliment any individual. A team with excellent coordination running and charging very fast, coupled with deception that had the opponents guessing. After the game, as I sat there in a solemn mood, I agreed with all that had been said of the Georgia team, but I would go a step further and call it the "Red and Black Terror." And all Georgia men should be rightly proud of this team.

If I should write about the actual conditions at Tech, people would call it "bunk," but truthfully, they are not pleasant. Thomason will not start and probably will not even play, due to an injury that is most painful. This alone hurts Tech's chances in making the showing that we hope for. Parham is definitely out for the season, which practically cripples our kicking game. Holland, one of our smartest ends, is not in uniform on doctor's orders and last evening his condition was such that he was not considered for Saturday's game.

Any coach will agree with me that when three men of the ability I have mentioned are out of the game, he has a problem on his hands. It has necessitated grooming three less experienced men for the past week and regardless of constant practice, the push and drive that the others had is something for the work of a season can not be patched up in a week.

This account seems gloomy, but the truth has been told and the nervous state of waiting for the big game has caused what few precious strands of hair I have to practically curl up and I fear that these sprouts will have faded long enough by next Saturday when I will perhaps join the "Bey of bald-headed bachelors."

18 PLAYERS FOR DEC. 26 GAME PICKED

New York, November 29.—(United News)—Eighteen college football players have been invited to represent the east in the annual East-West game at Kezar stadium, San Francisco, on December 26.

Andy Kerr, of Washington and Jefferson, will coach the eastern team and will be assisted by Richard Hanley, Northwestern coach. The game will be played for the benefit of a children's hospital.

Bruce Caldwell, Yale's star half-back, who was ruled ineligible for the Princeton and Harvard games, and Mike Kane, of Dartmouth, who led the east in scoring with 125 points, have accepted invitations to play. Herb Joesting, Minnesota halfback, declined an invitation.

Three players from each Yale and Nebraska were invited to play with the east. The complete list follows: Ends—Arkison, Lafayette; Moore, Princeton; Scott or Fishwick, Yale.

Tackles—Randels, Nebraska; Winston, Western Maryland; Douds, Washington and Jefferson.

Guards—Webster, Yale; Baer, Michigan; Hanson, Minnesota.

Centers—Hawley, Haskell; Grigsby, Georgetown; Reisch, Illinois.

Backs—Caldwell, Yale; Amos, Washington and Jefferson; Prossell, Nebraska; Connor, New York university; Joesting, Minnesota; Howell, Nebraska.

McMillin to Coach At Centre College

Danville, Ky., November 29.—(AP)—Belief that "Bo" McMillin is coming back to Centre college, this time as its football coach, spread here today after it became known that he recently conferred with college officials. Since the days when "Uncle Charlie" Moran was coach and McMillin the brilliant leader of the "Praying Colonels," who routed Harvard, McMillin has been coaching and has been more than ordinarily successful at Centenary college in Louisiana and at Geneva college in Pennsylvania. In fact, he gave Centenary the best team it ever had and he coached Geneva into a victory over Harvard last year and to a good record this season.

President Turk, of Centenary, was not in town today but Danville citizens to whom McMillin is an outstanding gridiron hero, expressed: "That he had conferred with President Turk on his recent trip here and that if certain difficulties were overcome he would be back at Centre next year." It was stated that he has not signed for next year with Geneva.

Alekhine Crowned Chess Champion

Buenos Aires, November 29.—(AP)—Alexander Alekhine, Russian chess master, today won the world's chess championship when Jose R. Capablanca, the titleholder since 1921, resigned the thirty-fourth game of the series without resuming play adjourned last night after 81 moves. The score was 6 to 3 victories. The 25 drawn games did not count.

Alekhine was happy, saying he had finally made good what had been his life's ambition. He was ready to defend his title against all comers but not before 1929 and that the first challenger should be Capablanca. Capablanca appeared a bit downcast by his defeat.

CENTRE DENIES "BO" M'MILLAN NEGOTIATIONS

Jacksville, Fla., November 29.—(AP)—Centre college has no negotiations pending with "Bo" McMillan, at present coach at Geneva, Pa., college. Dr. C. J. Turk, president of Centre college, told the Associated Press late tonight.

Dr. Turk was in Jacksonville attending the preliminary sessions to the convention beginning Friday of the Southern Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges.

We have no negotiations pending with Mr. McMillan," Dr. Turk said. "As far as we are concerned our football season came to a close last Saturday. We have not selected a coach for next year."

McMillan was the mainstay of the "Praying Colonels" of Centre under the regime of "Uncle Charlie" Moran.

Bulldogs Get Down to Hard Work for Tech

Scrimmage Held Tuesday With Another Booked for Today.

BY BOB SHERRON.

Athens, Ga., November 29.—Tuesday brought a long, fruitful scrimmage to the Georgia Bulldogs in their closing days of preparation for the final game with Georgia Tech. A longer and still harder skirmish is scheduled for Wednesday.

The second-string varsity versus the Red Devils was the program for Tuesday afternoon and the reserves showed up well against the trial horses. In fact, both teams put up exceptionally good exhibitions, the second-string bunch holding a slight margin. Jackson, former Decatur High school star, was shifted to fullback on the varsity from the Red Devils and put in a good afternoon's work. Jackson was sent in to fill the vacancy cre-

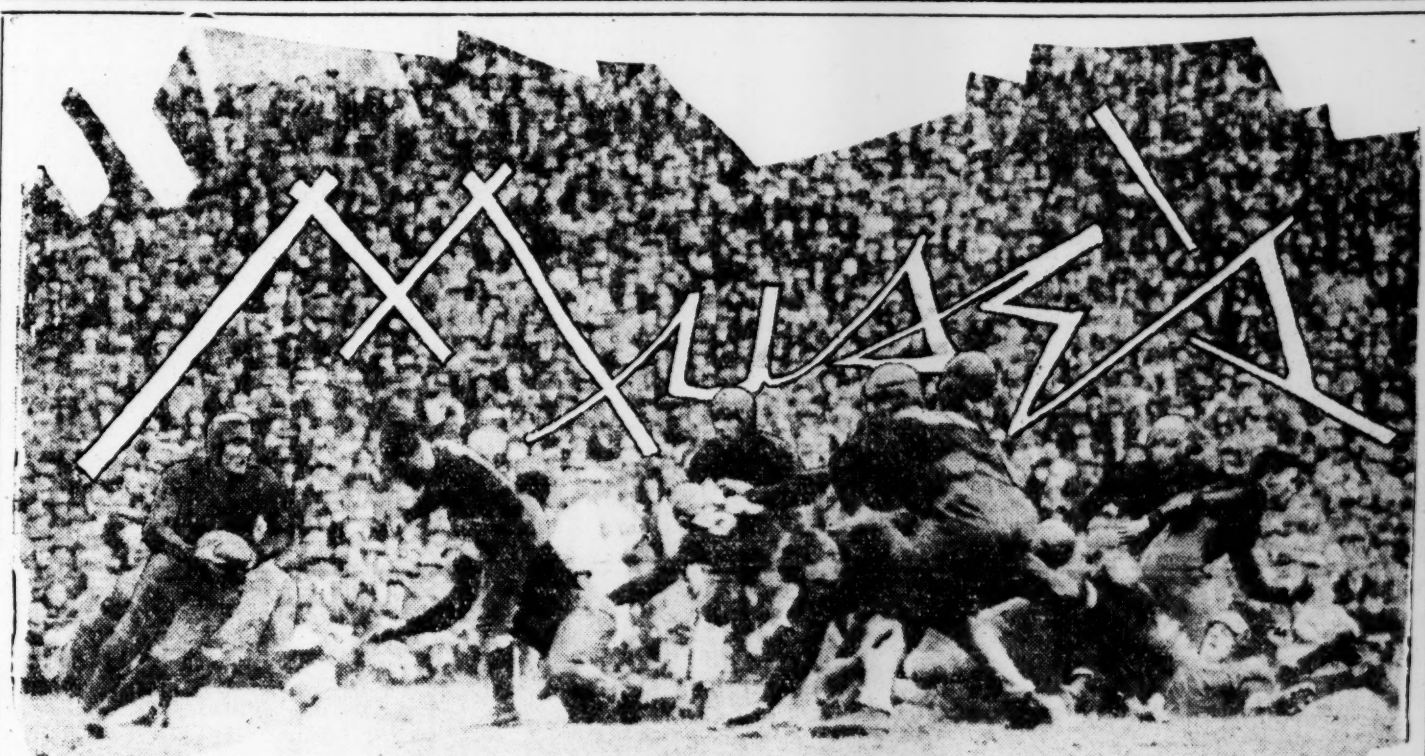

MAJOR LEAGUE SCHEDULES MADE TODAY

Chicago, November 29.—(AP)—Schedules for the 1928 major league baseball campaigns will be drafted at a meeting starting in Pittsburgh Wednesday.

After the schedule committees have finished the drafts, the tentative charts will be submitted for adoption at the joint meeting of the National and American leagues in New York next month. With the schedules adopted the necessity of holding the usual spring meetings will be avoided.

The schedule committee is composed of E. S. Barnard, president of the American league; John A. Heydler, National league president; William Harridge, secretary of the American league; and Barney Dreyfuss, owner of the Pittsburgh club.

Why Not? Democracy, me eye! It's got so in this country a fellow gets jailed for tearing up a piece of paper—if a traffic court summons is printed on it.

Be in Hickey-Freeman's GREYSTONE MODEL AT THAT GAME SATURDAY

This is a most distinguished suit, with a graceful soft front; slightly fitted at the waist to bring out the fine points to your build... typically metropolitan, tailored with the special skill of Hickey-Freeman, here is a suit you will always like. Especially interesting on the going business man and the mature man. Its poise distinguishes the young man, and its smartness brightens his senior.

In two button or three button

On the young man's calendar there is the "London," a commanding model with broader shoulders and a closer waist. Designed, tailored by Hickey-Freeman, to give smart zest to the youthful figure.

In Cheviots, in Worsted, and in Trawlwear, these two important models introduce an entirely new type of splendid blues; grays; browns; and a tan. You'll like this immensely.

Get into one of these today—Here is good form. Fine bearing! You'll wear these over a longer time, and look your best all that time—

CLIFF WHEATLEY DIES IN FLORIDA

Cliff Wheatley, former sporting editor of The Constitution and one of the most popular young business men of Atlanta, died suddenly Tuesday at United States Veterans' Hospital, No. 65, in Lake City, Fla., according to news received in Atlanta.

He went to Lake City a few weeks ago to receive treatment for pulmonary and kidney ailments during the winter, and for the past three weeks had been suffering from an attack of pneumonia. Apparently he was well on the road to recovery, and his strength was so good that he failed rapidly.

News of Mr. Wheatley's death came as a shock to hundreds of his friends here and east of a call of sadness over the death of a man who had been a member of the Constitution's news department, where he was universally beloved.

Cliff Wheatley was one of the most lovable characters this paper's staff of news representatives ever numbered. Big and genial and happy, his smile was infectious and his ready good nature made friends with whom he came in contact.

He served as sports editor of The Constitution for about two years, coming here after the war from America, his home town. In the war he held the rank of lieutenant and made a splendid record, taking part in a number of important engagements.

On leaving The Constitution Mr. Wheatley went to the Georgia Power company to assume an important post in its public relations department. Still later he became connected with the publicity department of the local branch of the Ford Motor company, being given a long leave of absence by this concern when his impaired health made it necessary for him to go to the veterans' hospital for treatment.

Mr. Wheatley is survived by his father, who lives in America, and a brother, Merrill Wheatley, of Atlanta. Funeral services will be held in America Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

WHEATLEY FUNERAL SET FOR WEDNESDAY

Americus, Ga., November 29.—(Special.)—Funeral services for Cliff Smith Wheatley, aged 28, a member of a prominent American family and a former resident here, who died Tuesday at a United States Veterans' hospital in Lake City, Fla., will be held from the Wheatley home here

FINLAY M. KINCAID PASSES IN GRIFFIN

Griffin, Ga., November 29.—(Special.)—Finlay Milton Kincaid, well-known Griffin citizen and for many years a resident of this community, died Tuesday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Emmet Powell, following an illness of more than a year.

Mr. Kincaid was born on February 19, 1859, in Morantown, N. C., and came to Griffin many years ago. He has been prominent in local business and civic circles for a long period of years.

Mr. Kincaid is survived by his wife, Mrs. Clara Hale, of Savannah; Mrs. H. C. Bize, of Columbus; Miss Alice Kincaid, of Savannah; and Mrs. J. E. Powell and Mrs. J. H. McLaughlin, both of Griffin; one son, Finlay Kincaid, Jr., of Griffin; two sons, Mrs. Jeff Britton, of Morantown, N. C., and Mrs. Kate Devault, of Asheville, N. C.; and one brother, Jesse Kincaid, of Morantown, N. C.

Funeral services for Mr. Kincaid will be held from the First Baptist church Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with the Rev. L. M. Latimer, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Oak Hill cemetery.

FUNERAL RITES OF LATE CARDINAL TO BE HELD TODAY

Rome, November 29.—(United News.)—Funeral rites for John Cardinal Bonzano, who died Saturday morning after an operation, will be held Wednesday.

The body of the former apostolic delegate to Washington and papal legate to the Ecumenical congress in Chicago has been placed in the robes of a cardinal. A red and gold covering has been placed over the heavy lead coffin, which has been sealed with the cardinal's arms. The coffin will be placed inside a heavy walnut casket, adorned with the Vatican coat of arms.

Mr. Bonzano was a native of Italy and was born in 1854. He was a member of the Vatican council of 1929 and was papal legate to the United States in 1937.

A Smith Plans Job as Writer For Magazines

Albany, N. Y., November 29.—(AP) Governor Smith is planning, according to his friends, to enter the field of magazine writing when he retires from public life. While no statement is forthcoming from the executive himself, those who are in his confidence say that when his term as governor expires on December 31, 1928, he will devote his energies to the production of magazine articles dealing with political and governmental problems, unless he should be elected to the presidency.

This became known today when Governor Smith's intimates denied published reports that he intended, if he should receive the democratic presidential nomination, to resign the governorship immediately. The governor would not resign, they said, because if he did so he would forfeit the pension of approximately $6,000 a year to which he will be eligible after January 1, 1929, if he retires from public service through no action of his own.

The governor has been in the service of city, county or state for 30 years. The pension, based upon the salary received in the last five years preceding retirement, will be a substantial boost after next year's day when his salary is increased from $10,000 to $25,000 annually.

In addition to the $6,000 pension, there will be a reserve fund of $84,000 to his credit. Should he die before the amount paid in pensions equals the amount of the reserve fund, the balance would be paid to his widow.

W. L. GRANBERRY DIES AT NASHVILLE HOME

William L. Granberry, 64, special counsel of the Bell Telephone company and general counsel of the Pullman company, died Tuesday morning at his home in Nashville, Tenn., according to word received in Atlanta by relatives.

Death was due to heart trouble, from which he had suffered for some time.

Mr. Granberry also was general counsel of the Cumberland Telephone company and represented the Southern Express company for a number of years. He was born in Mary county, Tennessee, and is survived by his widow and two sons, Captain W. L. Granberry, recently of Atlanta, and James T. Granberry, of Nashville; a sister, Mrs. Hugh Foster, of Atlanta; and two brothers, J. M. Granberry, of Columbia, Tenn., and H. T. Granberry, of San Diego, Calif.

Funeral services for F. A. Bishop will be held from the First Baptist church Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with the Rev. L. M. Latimer, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Oak Hill cemetery.

Mr. Bishop was a native of Fort Wayne, Ind., and came to Atlanta in 1887. Soon afterwards he founded the Empire Glass and Decoration company, the first art glass company in the south and at present the largest of its kind in the southeast.

He was an active member of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce and was also a member of the United States Chamber of Commerce. He was a member of the Ellis.

Mr. Bishop is survived by his wife and two sisters, Mrs. L. N. Barr, of Kansas City, Mo., and Mrs. Kerns, of Minneapolis, Minn.
